NEMZEK, KISE, MacLEAN SPEAK AT ANNUAL DINNER; WALLS SINGS TWO SOLOS

"Onward" was the theme of the annual football banquet held in the dining room of the New Columbia Hotel last Monday night, this theme being carried out throughout the toasts and speeches given by various speakers during the course of the program.

Nemzek Gives Talk

After a satisfying supper of roast goose and other delicacies, Coach Alex Nemzek gave the feature address of the evening, "The Temple of the Body". Nemzek discussed the importance of morale, effect of training, and other related subjects. Denying the argument that foot ball causes many deaths and therefore should be eliminated from school curricula, "Sliv" stated that more than twice as many deaths were a result of golf last year as football. The coach was given a standing handclap expressing the general regard of the squad for their director.

Hank Booher

"Sliv" stated that more than twice as many deaths were a result of golf last year as football. The coach was given a standing handclap expressing the general regard of the squad for their director.

Booher Named Captain

During the evening it was announced that Hank Booher had been elected to lead the 1932 football team. The captain-elect pledged his allegiance to the Dragons, and was congratulated by the graduating ex-captain, Obert Nelson.

Other speakers were Mr. Kise, toastmaster, and President MacLean, whose topic was: "Reading the Future". Diversion was offered by a story telling contest among the faculty members, won by Mr. Murray. The prize, presented by J. R. Schwendeman, faculty athletic manager, was a book which Mr. Murray reputedly is to donate to the College library. Professor Ballard entertained the squad with his renditions on the mouth organ early in the evening. Robert Walls offered two vocal solos, accompanied by Harlow Berquist, which were received with enthusiasm.

Archer Shows Movies

The final events of the evening were a series of movies taken by Dr. Archer, "The Football Teams of 1930 and 1931" and "The Dragon Spirit", and a final yell for the Seniors who are members of the squad, Obert Nelson, Chet Gilpin, John Ingersoll, Vic Anderson, and Tonnie Davis. Letters to all men were given out at the Wednesday assembly.

Groups Begin Planning For "Winter Frolics"

Following out a plan suggested in Chapel last Wednesday by Sidney Kurtz, representatives of all organizations on the Campus will meet next Monday to organize a program of "Winter Frolics" to be presented at the College shortly after the Christmas holidays. Tap dancing, vaudeville, musical numbers and other features will make up this program by College talent which will be much like the yearly "Bison Brevities" at North Dakota State College.

Therefore, responsibility rests on the presidents of the college organizations to select representative delegates for the general conference to be held in the auditorium, on Monday, Dec. 14, at 7:00 p. m.

Campfire Groups Plan Christmas Ceremonial

With the beginning of the winter term, Campfire has again been organized on the campus, and guardians of the four groups will be Marie Weighelt, Irene Backley, Frances Carter, and Gladys Casey, according to Miss Frick, who will act as faculty adviser.

In accordance with an old tradition, a christmas ceremonial will be held in Weld Hall Sunday, December 13, at 4:30. At 4:30 the program will pause for a minute in memory of the Campfire girls who have gone out from the college group. All friends of Campfire are cordially invited to the ceremonial.

Clarence Putnam, Fargo, is a new member of the M. S. T. C. concert band.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

- Tonite—7:00—Dragons vs. Bison, Bison Field House.
- 8:00—Dragon Reserves vs. Bison Frosh.
- 8:00—Sigma Tau Delta Pledge Service, Comstock Hotel.

MUSIC FEATURES CHAPEL PROGRAM

CHRISTENSEN, WALLS, BERQUIST, APPEAR AS SOLOISTS IN YEAR'S FIRST CONCERT

Appearing in its first program of the year, the Moorhead State Teachers' College concert band, under the direction of A. M. Christensen, played a concert in the chapel this morning, featuring as soloists Reynold Christensen, cornetist, and Robert Walls and Harlow Berquist, clarinetists. Curtis Remfrey, scheduled to appear as xylophone soloist, underwent an operation Wednesday making his appearance today impossible.

The following program was presented: "Americans We" march by Fillmore; "Egmont", overture, Beethoven; "Reminiscences", by Dorothy Hoel, cornet solo; "Le Calife de Bagdad", overture, Boieldieu; "Poet and Peasant", overture, xylophone solo; "Lassus Trombone", novelty, Fillmore; Selection for two clarinets, Haydn, Robert Walls and Harlow Berquist, American Spirit", march, Buglione.

In this first informal concert of the year the band was able to make use of the xylophone, tympanies, and other equipment not included in informal, outside appearances. The organization, only four years old and now made up of fifty pieces, is planning outside concerts, chiefly during the spring quarter.

PLANS MADE FOR COLLEGE DEBATES

FRESHMEN JOIN SQUAD; DEFINITE POSITIONS ASSIGNED FOR PRACTICE WORK

The passing of another week marks further progress in the plans of the debate squad, and although Freshmen are eligible for debate only without credit, several first-year students have expressed a desire to try their skill in the debate field. The prospective members from the Freshman class are as follows: Miriam Johnson, Luverne; Eva Louise Raver, Chokio; and Russell Monson, Cass Lake. Since some of the schools have asked for men's and women's teams, an effort will be made to organize a women's team if there is a justifiable response from the women of the college.

Positions Assigned

Beginning regular practise, this week, Mr. Loewen has assigned definite positions (for practise only) so that each member will have a definite unit on which to work.

The schedule for this season's debate promises to be the heaviest that has ever been attempted, with definite plans made to meet teams from Macalester and River Falls, a request from Jamestown for two men's and two women's debates which has not yet been answered, and requests from Mayville and Aberdeen for verbal tilts which will be accepted if suitable arrangements can be made. There will probably be "no-decision" debates with Carleton and St. Thomas. The teams will meet both St. Cloud and Winona if their plans for organizing squads materialize.

To Continue League

The Teachers College League, formed last year as a triangular affair, Moorhead meeting Winona, who meets Mankato, who meets Moorhead, will probably continue this year with the affirmative teams traveling. All in all, the squad has a schedule before them which will easily consume the appropriation made for this purpose.

Defensive Ace

C. Gilpin

A mainstay on the Dragon defense for several years, Chester Gilpin effectively broke up numerous Cobber plays in last Wednesday's cage battle. "Chet" is playing his last year of basketball on the M. S. T. C. squad.

ENROLLMENT FOR WINTER QUARTER SHOWS INCREASE

62 NEW STUDENTS ENTER, RAISING TOTAL NUMBER TO 648 FOR WINTER TERM

As the new buildings across the way assume an outward aspect of completion and the winter term opens, the enrollment likewise swells and grows to proportions with 648 men and women now taking courses on the campus. Considering that some forty seven students dropped from the roster, this fluctuation from the 636 during the fall term is creditable.

Men Show Increase

From the 62 new students over the usual number leaving, the men show the greatest increase with 141 as compared with 132 in the fall term, while the women number 509. Three of the four classes show an increase in number, the Sophomores leading with a gain of ten over the fall term. The roll by classes now is: Freshmen, 322; Sophomores, 207; Juniors, 75; and Seniors, 42; Two years ago before the great fire which destroyed "Old Main", 501 on the roll was considered an excessive number for the available space. With last year's rise to 542 and this year's boom to the present figure of 648, all in Weld Hall, the new buildings will answer a crying need for room to expand in.

To Use New Buildings

Some time in January this expansion will begin with the occupancy of the new training school, and the first basketball game in the new gymnasium, and will reach its climax at Commencement in June with the dedication of the entire $765,000 project.

Of the 62 new students this winter term, 46 or 75 per cent are from Minnesota, 14 are from North Dakota, 1 from South Dakota, and 1 from Montana.

Winter Term Social Calendar Announced

According to the winter term calendar, announced this week by Henry Booher, chairman of the College social committee, the social affairs of the school have been arranged with the exception of four or five dates yet unfilled.

The following is the winter term calendar: Dec. 11—All-College Party; Dec. 12—College High Party; Dec. 18—Open; Dec. 19—Owls; Jan. 8—Psi Delta Kappa Party; Jan. 9—Pi Mu Phi and Gamma Nu Parties; Jan. 15—All-College Party; Jan. 16—W. A. L. Party; Jan. 22—Sophomore Party; Jan. 23—Praeceptor Party; Jan. 29—Open; Jan. 30—Freshman Party; Feb. 5—Open; Feb. 6—Kappa Pi Party; Feb. 12—All-College Party; Feb. 13—Class Play, "Hamlet"; Feb. 19—Country Life Club Party; Feb. 20—Campfire Party; Feb. 26—Open; Feb. 27—Dramatic Club Party; March 3—Open; March 4—Open.

DRAGONS TO MEET BISON TONIGHT; GAIN VICTORY OVER COBBERS IN OPENING TILT

Dragon "Super Wonders" Conquer Concordia's "Wonder" Team; Bison Frosh To Play M. S. T. C. Reserves In Second Game at A. C. Field House Tonight

Fresh from a thrilling 26-22 victory over the highly touted Concordia College Cobbers last Wednesday night, the speedy Dragon basketball squad will meet its crucial test tonight against the North Dakota State College Bison at the Bison Field House. Immediately after this game which starts at 7:00 o'clock the Dragon reserve squad will play a strong freshman team representing the State College.

VOCAL GROUPS TO PRESENT CONCERT

DOUBLE QUARTET, RADIO GIRLS, CHAPEL CHOIR, TO GIVE CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

As a sendoff before the Christmas holidays the Chapel Choir, Radio Girls, and Double Male Quartet will furnish the numbers for the program to be given next Friday morning at the chapel period.

The choir will sing six numbers, namely: "Listen to the Lambs," by Dett; "O, Magnum Mysterium", by da Vittoria; "Song of the Cherubim", by Glinka; Shaw's "How Far is it to Bethlehem"; "A Joyous Christmas Song", by Gweart; and Gruben's "Silent Night".

Two selections, not yet definitely decided upon, will be the contribution of the double quartette. The Radio Girls will sing "Meditation", by Bach, Pietro Yan's "Gerser Bambino", and "Sing, O Sing this Blessed Morn" by Marsh.

Two One-Act Plays Are Well Received

(By Eileen Hiland)

Miss Tainter and two groups under her direction achieved another success last Friday evening when two one-act plays were presented before a large and appreciative audience. Four new players, Ruth Dahl, Dan McCoy, Everett McCoy, and Sydney Kurtz made their first appearance behind the College footlights, and their dramatic ability is to be highly commented upon.

In Edna Ferber's "The Eldest" the part of Rose was played by Dorothy Dunne. Miss Dunne's interpretation of a girl who was a slave to her family was outstanding, and her acting as the curtain fell gave a feeling of the futilities of everything.

Donald Bird as Henry Selz, Axel Tafelin as Pa, Marcella Redlinger as Floss, Everett McCoy as Al, and Charlotte Smith as a neighbor lady completed the cast. All played their parts with understanding.

The undercurrent of the tragedy of "The Eldest" was banished by the rollicking merriment of George Kelly's "The Flattering Word" a one-act satirical comedy dealing with the members of the stage profession and an elocutionist.

Sydney Kurtz's impersonation of Eugene Fish, a suave, clever, humorous actor was excellent. Ruth Dahl as Mrs. Zooker who was a gossipy old lady, and Doris Sorkness, Mrs. Zooker's daughter, drew many hearty laughs from the audience. Miss Dahl's pantomime was especially good.

Dan McCoy as Rev. Rigley and Evelyn Cook as the minister's wife gave excellent interpretations of their respective parts.

Frosh "Prexy" Retains Office After Election

Though he called a special election to choose his successor, Red Monson, Freshman class president, found the gavel of office still in his own hand when the smoke of battle cleared away after the class election last Wednesday morning.

Honors were fairly divided between the sexes, however, when Nina Jorgenson was elected permanent secretary, and the voting for treasurer resulted in a tie between Grace Hagen and Jack Bridges. With the financial situation still undecided, Dr. C. P. Archer was chosen faculty adviser in further balloting.

With the minor positions filled to satisfaction the climax of the election saw the triumph of Alvin Cocking over Robert Jeffery in a torrid race for janitor.

Nemzek's outfit will feature the speedy Robinson brothers, backed by the Montana guards, Gilpin and Booher, Herb Moberg, capable defensive forward and Cliff Rasmussen, rangy center. Several other competent men will be available, including Caca Fridlund who will be back in all probability, after being out with an infected foot.

Bison Slightly Taller

Meanwhile coach L. T. Saalwaechter of A. C. will have a splendid team in readiness. The Bison basketballers demonstrated their ability against the powerful Minnesota "U" Gophers last week. The North Dakotan's starting lineup will probably be Don Arthur and George Fairhead, forwards; Bob Weir, center; Ikky Nordstrom and Viv McKay, guards. The men from across the Red River have a slight edge in height over the Dragon cage outfit.

With both teams flashing a powerful offense, and well nigh impregnable defense, there is difficulty in predicting the outcome, but after Nemzek polishes off the minor defects showed up in the Concordia game, the "grandstand coaches" may be expecting to see the Dragons draggin' the laurels back home.

Many Games Scheduled

Before most students return from the Christmas holidays, the Dragons will have played their third Cobber game, set for New Year's Day, and will leave on a trip into Wisconsin to play River Falls, Eau Claire and LaCrosse Teachers Colleges.

With the addition of seven more games to this year's basketball schedule, Coach Nemzek now has arranged for fourteen games for his charges. With the possibility that even more games will be scheduled, Dragon supporters can look forward to a menu of the hard court sport that will satisfy even the most ardent rooters.

To Play North Dakota Teams

The majority of the games recently scheduled are with teams the Dragons formerly played in the Interstate Conference, recently dissolved. These teams are now all members of the North Dakota Conference which includes only teams from that state. Nemzek has scheduled two games each with Wahpeton and Mayville, one each with Jamestown and Valley City, all old rivals.

The other game is to be played with Aberdeen. The Dragons hope to revenge themselves on the Wolves who spoiled this year's homecoming football game by holding the M. S. T. C. eleven to a scoreless tie.

All of these teams promise to give the Dragons plenty of trouble, with the possibility that some upsets may occur. Jamestown and Valley City especially are strong enough to turn back the Dragons if they can get "hot" at the right time. If Aberdeen's football team is any indication of the sort of basketball aggregation they turn out, the Crimson will have a real battle on their hands to repulse the Wolves' attack.

Four Items Of Campus Featured By Journal

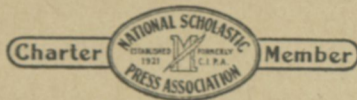

Scenes of the corner stone laying ceremonies at the College on October 24 are reproduced in the December issue of the Minnesota Journal of Education just out. At the top of the same page is the poem "The Old College," written by Edwin T. Reed, former faculty member. This poem was read in full at the annual Homecoming banquet in the evening of the same day by former president Frank A. Weld.

Other features of special interest on the Campus are two full page articles taken from "Studies in Conduct Education," the July number of the College Bulletin. The first, "Christmas in Many Lands" was written by Miss Loudon and Miss Carlson, of the Intermediate department of the Training School. The second, by Miss Wenck, (alias Miss Wenck, as the Journal has it) is on the subject "Music Promotes Understanding." Miss Wenck supervises music in the Training School and teaches music in the College.

DO YOU WANT A DECLAMATORY CONTEST?

Doesn't it seem strange that in a school where debate and dramatics are given so much attention and are so firmly established among the leading extra-curricular activities, that practically no interest is taken in declamation. We schedule a number of debates with leading colleges in the northwest, and stage plays worthy to be ranked with college-produced dramas anywhere, but in the last two years, at least, we scarcely even heard a declamation contest mentioned.

It is conceivable that we are wrong in saying that no interest is taken in declamation at the college. In fact, there is every reason to believe that a number of people now engaged in debate and dramatics, besides many others not taking part in forensic work, would be glad to go out for that type of work. In looking over our list of freshmen, we recognize a number who have taken active part in high school declamatory contests. There are also a few still attending the college who took part in such contests several years ago when that branch of forensic art flourished at the college.

"Back in the good old days", such contests were sponsored by our defunct literary societies. It is extremely probable that if those societies should take a new lease on life, they might bring with them our lost declamatory contests also. If there are some members of the student body who feel that they would welcome the return of our literary societies and declamatory contests, those people should make known their wishes to the forensic commissioner. He will be only too glad to take action if he can be assured that he has the backing of at least a part of the student body.

HOCKEY — THE COMING WINTER SPORT

To the pioneer in any field falls the difficult task of establishing a new thing without the benefit of a precedent, and with the task of creating a foundation for future generations to work upon. If he fails, he receives no sympathy; indeed, a failure in a new field will discourage future trials in that particular activity for a long time to come. If he succeeds, he is quickly forgotten by his successors, who build upon the ground floor which he laid.

Though we did have a hockey team at the College three years ago, the activity died out after a two-year run. Without the guiding hand of a leader, the new winter sport was forced out of the picture by older sports. With the growing popularity of the sport in colleges, high schools, and among the general public in most Minnesota towns, a determined attempt is being made to regenerate hockey at this college. The necessary leader is present, well qualified by previous experience to create a winning team from the promising group of players available at this time.

Certainly a hockey team should materially aid the situation caused by a lack of facilities which will continue to hinder our winter sports program until the new physical education building is completed. Not far from the College is a rink available for practice and games which can easily be scheduled with a number of nearby teams, leaving very little equipment to be purchased by the school or the players themselves.

THE LOCAL SITUATION

The captain elect of our 1932 football team should be a good leader on the field if he makes as good a field-general as a player. He'll have to be good to carry on the tradition handed down to him by Nelson, Gilpin, Ingersoll and their forerunners.

Keeping step with other activities, the dramatic club is rapidly unearthing new talent among the freshmen. The old guard certainly will have to do some real work these next few weeks, however, before they are ready to present "Hamlet".

After the game tomorrow night, it might be interesting to speculate just how well the Dragons would rank with Big Ten teams. Compare the score of the Minnesota-Bison game with the results of our game with the same team and you'll see how we rank.

Mr. Christensen assures us that we will have a chance to hear the excellent North Dakota University band some time this winter. Though the date has not been set, we are informed that the trading of concerts will go through as originally planned, though the blizzard which hit us just before Thanksgiving has made it necessary to put off the event for a while.

THE OPEN COLUMN

ACADEMIC CREDIT FOR DRAMATICS

During the past week, two activities, usually considered as extra-curricular in trend and of considerable importance, have begun functioning on the campus. They are debate and dramatics in the form of the class play. For the first of these, debate, consideration other than the experience received by those taking part, is two quarter hours credit as a regular half credit course.

Twelve weeks of attendance at two meetings a week warrants the receipt of half a college credit. However, a student equally anxious to develop for-ensically attains a place on the annual class play cast. For two hours a day, six days a week, or from ten to twelve weeks the student labors in this, their chosen activity, but they are awarded no academic recognition for their work.

Not attempting to present the technicalities of distinction, we impersonally compare debate and dramatics as to their relative value. The development of the ability to express oneself is the keynote of debate technique, while the development of thought interpretation and character portrayal is the contribution of participation in dramatics. Both in general foster and ramify the intellectual basis and the general rounding out of cultural and creative capabilities.

Perhaps attention has not been called to the possibility of placing dramatics on a similar basis to that which debate occupies now. However, considering that no difference in the amount of time put in is apparent, and its relative educational value considered impersonally is comparatively equal, there seems to be no apparent reason for placing one on the curricula and excluding the other. Let us give equal credit to activities that should have the same status in any college!

Sunday, I went to church today. I sat way up in frunt. You can here better there. Besides Maesella redlinger sits there 2. The minister preached about, "a foole and his money is soon parted--I wonder if he ment Jimmy Krajack. He was in church two. Right after he got done tawking, they took up a kolleckshun. I figgered they was trying to find out who the fools was, so I didn't put any in—I took out a kwarter. They cant fool me that easy. December 7.

I got the anser to my tellegraf. Me old man aint got much sense of humor. He rote--so sad--too bad--yur dad--. I hope he brakes his suspenders or sumthing. Gee, I feal blue.

December 8.
Today was fysical edagain. Davis was there. Not Edith but Tunny. He hung sum things from the cealing that looked like stuffed men. Then he sed to hairy ceeny, hell-lock, Rainold krist-skunsun and me—"wen I yell - I want each of you guys to tackle a dummy." Well I didnt like too, but what're you gonna do. So wen he yelled - tackle a dummy, I tackled him. He kicked me out of the place. I wouldn't care but when he cicked me, he hurt my "feelings."

December 10.
I jus heard Miss tainther (who is it then) was lookin for actors for the klass play called hamlet. I asked Jonny lind what hamlet ment. He knows most everything—all about skyrometers, barografs, precipitashun, diurnal and so on. He sed Hamlet was a small ham, or a little town. Some guy called shake-spear rote it. With that name he should have been a bullfiter. Gosh, I wonder if they'll need any good pitchers in the contest. Maybe I could wear my meddle that I got at the Ay See.

Winners in the Chicago district audition of the Atwater-Kent contest have been announced. They are Miss Lillian Meyer, Jamestown, N. D., and Eugene Morgan of Painesville, Ohio. Robert Walls, Washburn, N. D., a senior at the M. S. T. C. took part in the contest.

The new uniforms of the Radio Girls will make their first appearance at the Christmas program next Friday morning. The outfit is a white flannel suit with a crimson tie.

Clarence Putnam, Fargo, is a new member of the M. S. T. C. concert band.

Mr. Bridges declares that he has heard that the Red River used to be navigable as far as Moorhead until someone dropped a sponge overboard.

Dr. Archer—(pondering over the pronunciation of Elia) "Miss Johnson, if this was your last name, I could tell you what to do about it."

Bunnie Lindgren was seen walking down Center avenue the other evening. As she approached the five and ten cent store, she saw some hershey kisses in the window. Without thinking (or perhaps remembering that hershey kisses were her favorite kind) she exclaimed aloud—"hershey kisses! Oh Boy!" A fair co-ed, walking beside our own dear Bunnie, looked up with apparent surprise and said "Does he?"

We have also been hearing from the Scotchman who regrets that he did not teach during the fall term, because he will not be getting the full value out of the dollar that he has to pay to the Nancio Club.

Don Bird is making a strong bid for the part of the ghost in "Hamlet." Now, wouldn't that haunt you?

Mr. Bridges was explaining to his American History class that anyone who wished to, could have any gold article coined into money. One bright person leaned toward his neighbor and said, "I could use my teeth."

The editor of "The Western Mystic" was almost roped into a freshman-sophomore fight last week when he allowed "By a Freshman" to be printed below "Kampus Kapers". The sophomores pointed out that only a freshman could be dumb enough to write it anyway, so why advertise it, but the freshman came back with the retort that the author happens to be a sophomore. "Anyway", replied he sophomore, "only a sophomore is clever enough to show up the frosh as well as he is doing."

Bill Robinson says that a shiek is a guy who takes his girl to the soda fountain and buys her an ice cream soda, and then takes her home and tries to squeeze it out of her.

Socrates—"I guess we will have noiseless typewriters in the MISTIC office next year." Jack Bridges—"Now what we need is noiseless women. I guess I'll work on that."

Debates Featured In College High Classes

This week the English III class is having debates on the following subjects: Resolved that the Eighteenth Amendment should be repealed, and Resolved that only those who graduate in the upper half of the high school class should be permitted to enter college.

Social problems and commercial law classes of the school are scheduled to spend a half a day at the county court soon, to observe court forms and procedure.

The High School history class held a three-day debate, representing the constitutional convention. Pupils found arguments representative of interests at the time and presented as characters did at the convention.

At assembly last Friday two cornet trios were given besides a talk by Karl Parsons on "This Advancing Age in Science". Pupils were shown three good books to read. All of the books were claimed at the end of the period.

DRAGONS SHOW POWER IN WIN OVER COBBERS

WIN FIRST TILT OF FIVE GAME
SERIES 26-22; HOLD 13-6
LEAD AT HALF

In a torrid game Wednesday night, the superior Dragons defeated the classy Concordia Cobbers 26-22, before a crowd of a thousand spectators who saw the fiercely waged contest, alternately thrilling and chilling. However, the Dragons showed their superiority over the Minnesota conference champions throughout the fray since the Crimson forged into the lead shortly after the opening whistle on Moberg's field goal and were in front throughout the game, though the Concordians tied the score twice.

Robinson Brothers Star

Bill and Buzz Robinson starred offensively for the Dragons, contributing 16 points of the total 26 points, shared equally between them. Chet Gilpin and Hank Booher played splendidly as offensive guards, their steady game bothering the Cobbers continuously so that the Cobbers were forced to shoot from a good distance from the hoop. Herb Moberg played a cool, heady game, and his teamwork was no small factor in the Dragon victory. Cliff Rasmussen controlled the tip-off successfully during his stay in the game, aiding the Dragons in gaining an early lead.

Cobbers Threaten

The Cobbers seemed confused at the manner in which Booher and Gilpin handled the sphere on the offense and by the fact that M. S. T. C. refused to be routed by desperate Cobber attacks. The Concordia team played brilliantly during the last half, making a determined threat when Bill Robinson and Herb Moberg were removed from the game, but failed to equal the work of the Dragons. Cliff Halmrast, all-conference center for the past three years, was the chief threat of the Cobbers. Hilde and Moran played good ball, but hardly up to the standard of the Robinson duo.

The summary:

M. S. T. C.—26	Concordia—22
fg ft pf	fg ft pf
B Robinson f,c 4 0 2	Hilde f 2 0 2
Moberg f 1 1 0	Malvey 2 0 0
G Robinson f 4 0 1	Halmrast c 5 0 0
Rasmussen c 0 0 1	Moran 0 3 0

Just Rambling

(By Jack Bridges)

Having recently returned from a football banquet, we are in a mellow mood . . . the MISTIC paid for it of course . . . or we would merely have heard about it! . . . It has been officially denied that Mr. Ballard will leave this school to become connected with the Redpath Vaudeville Bureau as a harmonist . . . but the faculty certainly proved that they are the finest kind of good fellows when they unbend from their lofty dignity . . . Over in the Exchange we were much amused by a story in another school paper in which the school publishing the paper had been beat 111 to 0 . . . If the Dragons get beat that badly, WE won't attempt to write anything about it . . . Hank Booher succeeds Hub Nelson as football captain . . . the squad showed good judgement in picking Hank . . . Bill Robinson spent a good deal of energy in heaving paper napkins at Johnny Ingersoll . . . Bill seemed to be interested in a little brunette waitress . . . naturally we weren't! . . . Nemzek held forty men spellbound for thirty minutes with his talk to the boys . . . and if you will believe us, it takes something worth while to hold attention that long . . . When Mr. Weltzin finished his grapefruit, he said, "Well, boys, I've finished my shower bath" . . . During the showing of the pictures, various comments concerning the players' actions were made by other members of the squad . . . maybe we are wrong, but the appearance of Wally Erickson from Moorhead High at the banquet seemed to be propaganda . . . By the way, Wally is captain of the Moorhead High 1931 football team, but also he is the brother of Jelly and Thelma Erickson, and the cousin of Willard Anderson . . . This is written previous to the Concordia game, but we are predicting that M. S. T. C. will take the game.

Twenty-four Admitted To W. A. L. Membership

W. A. L. is initiating into its organization this week the following new members who have qualified for membership in the organization: Ann Myers, Moorhead; Ruth Narvason, Kindred; Leveta Bryson, Moorhead; Marcella Rutten, Devils Lake, N. D.; Anne Gibb, Fargo, N. D.; Olive Askegaard, Rachel Askegaard, and Dorothy Askegaard, Comstock; Hazel Deuterma, Comstock; Bernice Campbell, Fargo, N. D.; Eunice Karrow, Ortonville.

Helen Brady, Doran; Ruby Heidlebaugh, Foxhome; Mildred Hager, Barney; Vivienne Swalley, Mapleton, N. D.; Leona Burhs, Graceville; Gunda Hanson, Stephen; Lillian Peterson, Hallock; Lilly Snowbec, Fergus Falls; Olga Loken, Elizabeth; Lailah Peacock, Glenwood; Martha Benidt, Lidgerwood, N. D.; Enid Pratt, Grandin, N. D.; and Eleanor Salmon, Foxhome.

Northern Lights

With the opening of the Dragon basketball season just up the block aways, the law will protect you if you want to make a slight guess on the outcome.

Still the cunning boys who like to flirt with Lizzie Chance will pop up and tell you that the Dragons are not the strong boys of last season.

Converse 'Lucky Boy' basketball shoes $2.10 per pair.

Take Bill Robinson for instance. The observers will tell you that an ingrown toe nail has deflected his shooting eye and the old basket doesn't swish with delight when he takes aim and fires.

And Ingersoll, the Culbertson of the Scarlet and White squad is quoted a little below par at the present writing.

With the portly built "Sliv" humping over the bench moaning low for just another championship, those Dragon basketeers are going to be Hard Hearted Hannahs to turn the "Skipper" down.

And that ain't no malted milk bobble either.
