COBBERS NOSE OUT VICTORY

ALTHOUGH PEDS OUTPOINT
THEM IN SECOND HALF

Playing the best brand of basketball they have displayed thus far this year, the Peds were defeated by the Cobbers in the game last Saturday. The final score was 24-21.

The game was hard fought, and at times a bit rough, but was spectacular to say the least.

Erickson dropped in a field goal in the first minute of play, but this was soon offset by a basket by Stardig and a free throw by Peltola. The Cobbers maintained the lead during the remainder of the half which ended 12 to 7 in their favor.

Concordia kept their lead in the early part of the second period but a rally by the Teachers brought their score up and with only a few minutes of play left the score was 19-19. Then Williams dropped in a field goal which placed the Peds in the lead. With less than a minute to go, Brewster sunk in a basket which again tied up the game, making an extra five minute period necessary to decide the game. Stardig's field goal and free throw scored in this extra period gave Concordia a three point advantage which the Peds were unable to overcome.

VISITING STAFF OFFICIAL SPEAKS

Hon. W. I. Nolan, lieutenant-governor of Minnesota, and former speaker of the House, paid the college a visit and delivered a short and pungent address at a special convocation last Thursday morning. The occasion of his visit to this section was an engagement to speak before a meeting of a North Dakota farm body in Fargo. His talk here concerned the average American indifference to politics.

BE THERE!

Students and faculty, come to the College Gym on Friday evening after the Y. M. C. A. movie—all school party.

Miss Flora Frick, State Bank Building, entertained the active members of the Pi Mu Phi sorority at a waffle supper at her home Saturday evening. After the delicious repast the girls went to the Concordia and Teachers College basketball game in the Moorhead High School gymnasium.

SUPERINTENDENTS AND TEACHERS LUNCH AT COMSTOCK HALL

While in Moorhead making plans for a basketball tournament, several superintendents of nearby schools took lunch at Comstock Hall. Wednesday noon. Those present included Supt. I. T. Simley, Thief River Falls, J. E. Anderson, Benson, R. J. Schofield, Perham, J. J. Bohlander, Moorhead. From the Teachers College, Miss Leonard, Miss Fogg, and Miss Lommen were present.

On Tuesday evening, President R. B. MacLean spoke to the Education Club, at the North Dakota Agricultural College, on "Factors That Constitute a Good Teacher."

HARKEN! YE TOURISTS!

Are you going to Europe this summer?

Do you realize that Europe is different from the U. S. A.?

Are you prepared to meet all emergencies?

Do you know just what to take and what to leave at home?

Our attention has been called to this news item by Miss Fogg and in accordance with her wish we suggest the following:

Miss Cronin, you will be limited to ten trunks, five hat boxes, two maids, and one machine. Remember that in Europe trains leave on schedule time and you may find yourself stranded in a lonely French village. In this case just call C. O. D.

Sweet Ida, you will be allowed but one trunk for your photos; it may be heart-rending to have to choose among all your admirers, but it is most necessary that you do this. You will meet many new people on your trip, Ida, but we want you to stick to the old familiar faces!

Evelyn, it will not be necessary to bring your books with you, because life is more interesting than books. Don't forget your gum! Remember Maxine will want to read your diary.

Ruby, you must reconcile yourself to sending cablegrams. They are not as convenient as telephone calls or telegrams, but they will get here eventually. You cannot expect to run home over the week-ends, but it won't be long; so cheer up, Ruby! And dear, please be careful with electric irons, won't you?

Kewpie, do not forget your spirits; you will need them on board probably before you are an hour out at sea. Beware of chance acquaintances! Remember that the traveling actors are

PLAY CAST ANNOUNCED

MISS TAINTER DIRECTING AN-NUAL PRODUCTION FOR FEBRUARY 26

According to latest announcements, "Jeanne D'Arc," Senior class play, will be presented to the college, Friday, Feb. 26. Jeanne D'Arc, it will be remembered is a five act drama, written by Percy MacKaye, an American dramatist and poet. Mr. MacKaye is a member of the faculty at the University of Michigan, at Ann Arbor. This University is the only one of its kind to pay salaries to creative writers who only work in that field.

To give the cast the necessary time for preparation of the play, notice has been made that Washington's birthday will be a holiday, and that during the afternoon of the 26th, a matinee will be given. Consequently, there will be no school for that half day.

The following characters, thus far, have been chosen:

Jacques D'Arc, father of Jeanne _____
Dorman Sutton
Pierre D'Arc, brother of Jeanne _____
Irene Felde
Seigneur Pierre De Bourlement, proprietor of "The Ladies' Tree" _____
Arnold Mattson
Colin, courting Jeanne Lillian Oscarson
Gerard, betrothed to Hauviette _____
Senina Crema
Gerardin, courting Isabelle _____

The morning's little lecture concerns the doctrine of individual differences. No, keep your notebooks and pens well out of sight. You will hear nothing that was not antecedently familiar, and your little show of industry will not deceive. We shan't be seeing you. The thing has been variously stated. Abstractly, and bristling with other such polysyllables as "temperament," "inheritance," "acquired characteristics," and similar tags, it is plugged by the scientists with a sort of naive assurance that they are pioneers, discoverers. For some centuries it has been observed by literary men for purposes of their trade, and by philosophers. They called it the theory of humours. One of them, Ben Jonson, even put the idea into a comedy, exaggerating the individual quirk of each of his characters for purposes of the stage. Farther back in the years, Socrates observed that his countrymen were fools. In this regard he was no whit different from the Sage of Baltimore, Henry Mencken. But he did go further, and observed that they differed in degrees of foolishness. Mencken lumps all but the subscribers to his magazine (and something includes them) in one sweeping generalization.

All which rhetoric is preliminary to the announcement that there are a small number of persons on this campus sufficiently different in ability and attainments to merit their inclusion in a special honorary group, Lambda Phi Sigma. We do not kow-tow to them because they represent a higher order. Not at all. They, too, are common clay. But where the prizes are of a certain kind, the few who win them deserve praise. Other prizes, other winners. In woodwork, for instance, many a Phi Beta Kappa man would draw the booby prize. But Lambda Phi Sigma represents, we hope, honorable and decent achievement in those fields to the cultivation and propagation of which this college is dedicated. For this achievement, the wearers of the key have our congratulations. Membership in the group, we feel, is a respectable ideal, challenging Service, Brotherhood, and Pleasure, for first place as goals of college life.

not those whom you would appreciate as friends on dry land!

Louise, if the original plans had been carried out, we realize your trip would have proved more enjoyable; but as it is, make the most of it—and we will make an effort to entertain Romeo. Do not forget the interesting places mentioned in Advanced Composition Class—i. e., "Boars Head Tavern!"

Irene, keep your pep; that's the spirit needed over there. Remember to walk around the deck twelve times a day to keep your maidenly figure.

To conclude, we wish to advise that you take your riding habits because there may be horses on the boat. If you fall in hurdling smile and think of the Prince of Wales. Gust has agreeably offered his services during the trip because you would encounter no one to take his place and remember young ladies at all times and in all places you are representing the M. S. T. C.

Misses Merle Nelson and Louise Hendrickson journeyed to Dilworth Thursday evening, where they gave an enjoyable musical program for the Dilworth Community club, in the local hall.

LUNIE PIE SOCIAL GROUP GATHERS ABOUT FRATERNAL BOARD

In a pleasant room were seen a group of fraternity brothers and sisters, yea, a scholastic fraternity. A society, emphasizing such admirable qualities for membership as leadership, professional growth, and scholarship, L. P. S.—yes, they were heard to call themselves the Lunie Pie Social, honorary, educational fraternity of the college. It seemed that three new members were being initiated into the order. After the impressive ceremony of lighting candles symbolically green, the officiating frater slipped about the neck of each new member a string upon which was suspended a door-key, the emblem of the Lunie Pie Social.

Following the initiation, in another room, came the banquet. The room was prettily decorated with valentines. The banquet fare was plain but excellent, apple pie a la mode—(pie for Lunie Pies).

The program was opened by the toastmaster, a genial, corpulent gentleman, who offered a few Scotch jokes. The remainder of the program was as follows:

1. Speech of Welcome—President of the L. P. S.
2. Response—One of those just initiated.
3. Silent Reading in Later Life—By our friend Sunshine, Supervisor of Outdoor Teaching.
4. How It Feels to Be a Lunie—Another New Lunie Pie.
5. Rudiments of Applied Heredity and Environments—By a joke teller and Psychology Teacher of this locality.
6. "Why I Favor Lunie Pie Socials"—By Bobbie Burns, chief of the Moorhead State Training Camp.
7. Thrills of Being an L. P. S. Member—By an old Frater.
8. The Value of Intelligence Tests for Chapel Speakers—By a Beacon on the Beach from the Baby High School.

The affair was appropriately ended by buncing the toastmaster in a blanket and singing the Alma Mater.

Miss Lucille Phillips, alumnae member of the Pi Mu Phi sorority, entertained alumnae and active sorority members at her home Sunday afternoon in compliment to Miss Helen Berquist, who has been chosen for the leading character in the Senior class play, "Jeanne d'Arc." The afternoon was spent in social chat and music. The hostess, assisted by her sister, Ruth, served a dainty three-course luncheon at 5:30.

EDUCATION BULLETINS IN THE LIBRARY

Among the most valuable reference materials in the Library are the bulletins of the United States Bureau of Education. The Library has a complete file of these bulletins now numbering 774. They are issued at the rate of about 50 per year, each bulletin a valuable and up-to-date contribution in the field of education. The bulletins are cataloged as soon as they arrive at the Library and are placed in the bulletin file where they are as accessible as books.

Of the 1925 Bulletins, the following have been received:

- No. 1—Educational directory for 1925.
- No. 2—Important state laws relating to education, 1922-1923.
- No. 3—Contribution of home economics to citizenship training.
- No. 6—High school education of the farm population in selected states, by E. E. Windes.
- No. 7—Kindergarten legislation, by Nina C. Vanderwalker.
- No. 8—Elementary instruction of adults (Report of the National Illiteracy Conference Committee).
- No. 9—Some lessons from a decade of rural supervision, by Annie Reynolds.
- No. 10—The rural high school; its organization and curriculum, by Emery N. Ferriss.
- No. 12—Statistics of state universities and state colleges for year ending June 30, 1924.
- No. 14—Record of current educational publications.
- No. 15—Cycles of garden life and plant life, a series of projects in nature study for elementary schools.
- No. 18—Progress in kindergarten education, by Nina C. Vanderwalker.
- No. 21—Health and physique of school children, by James F. Rogers.
- No. 22—Recent data on consolidation of schools and transportation of pupils, by James F. Abel.
- No. 23—Statistics of private high schools and academies, 1923-1924.
- No. 27—Some recent movements in city school systems, by W. S. Deffenbaugh.
- No. 30—Parent-Teacher associations at work, by Ellen C. Lombard.
- No. 31—Medical education, 1922-1924,

by N. P. Colwell.
 No. 32—Agricultural education, by George A. Works.

In addition to the bulletins, the Bureau of Education also issues the following circulars and leaflets which are indexed and kept on file in the library:

- City school leaflets.
- Commercial education leaflets.
- Higher education circulars.
- Home economics circulars.
- Industrial education circulars.
- Kindergarten circulars.
- Library circulars.
- Physical education circulars.
- School health studies.
- Secondary school circulars.
- Statistical circulars.
- Teachers leaflets.
- Rural school leaflets.

GREAT

A school paper is a great invention;
 The good ones toil with fine intention,
 But the rest do naught but jeer,
 And the editor thinks it queer
 That none but "hash" is handed in,
 When all is done and put in the reader's hands,
 To jeer or cheer they clap their hands.
 The staff gets all the fame,
 And the editor all the blame.

—"Hawaii School Paper."

Major Hill, an African explorer, who is being sent by the University of Minnesota to speak at the schools of this state, addressed the students of the Madison High School, giving a very interesting and instructive talk on Africa.

—"The Rowser."

NEW FEATURE OF CHAPEL

Slides were used to replace the song books in singing. The use of slides for group singing is a comparatively new feature in use by the schools thruout the country. The slides purchased represented a very fine selection of songs and are much appreciated by the students of the school.

—"Teachers College Budget."

Among the winter sports is the young man who rides the cow-catcher on the rear of the State Teachers College Toonerville Trolley (Northern States Power Co., Owners and Operators).

INTELLIGENCE TEST

(To be administered on the 29th of February.)

1. When will we have a new Gym? How? Prove by dates and data.
2. Why is Ed Malvey called Monk? Prove that the title is appropriate.
3. Where does "F" take his sleepology? Prove by dates and data.
4. In less than seven thousand words, tell us why Sim son knows his stuff. Are you sure?
5. Then why do they call him "Suit Case?" Prove by statistics of the bulletin board.
6. What is the synonym for storms? Have the fellows any reason for calling him that? What?
(Note: A treat will be given by the writer of the column to the person who writes the best set of answers to these questions for next week's MISTIC.)

The Senior class voted to dedicate the Praeceptor to the spirit of the pioneers. Mr. Hamrin wonders why they don't dedicate it as follows:

1. Faculty section to the Norwegians.
2. Fly leaf to the Swedes.
3. Organization to the Irish.
4. Comic section to the Scotch.

DEBATE FEATURES

DELTA SIGMA MEETING

Delta Sigma, men's literary society, had its regular meeting Thursday evening, January 21. The question for debate was, "Resolved, that optimism is a most offensive attitude." The affirmative view was upheld by H. Preusse and Dorman Sutton, and the Negative side was defended by Marshall Shelstad and Charles Wendel. The decision of the judges was two to one in favor of the negative side. Vocal numbers were given by Ole Sande and James Dahl. The meeting was closed by a humorous reading by Frank Nemzek.

Save $1.50 on the Famous Book of Etiquette.

1. "Both were embarrassed when both should have been at ease." They had just returned from the theater, LaVerne and Rusty. It was early and everyone was up. Should she invite him in or should she send him away rather than run the risk of finding the parlor unoccupied? The Book of Etiquette would have told them what they wish to know.

2. "What's wrong with this picture?"

They are selecting the ring (Cora and Marvin) to seal their engagement. Should he have chosen it by himself without consenting her individual preference? The book would have told them what is correct in such a case.

The following people of the primary department had perfect attendance during the first semester: Donald LePash, Mollie Preston, Phillip Costain, Grace Meyers, and Norma Christianson.

Members of the 1B division were guests in the kindergarten at the health movie on Friday.

* * *

The 5A class entertained the Little Citizens Club of the Intermediate department on Friday. The program was very interesting, consisting of talks by different members and slides depicting surface and industry of the western states.

* * *

The language classes are busy studying poems and making booklets for Lincoln's birthday.

* * *

Miss Lommen spoke on "The Mystery of Knighthood," at the Junior High School Club meeting Friday.

The Baby Peds played Dilworth on their home floor Friday. The score was 12 to 6 in favor of the Junior High School.

The Junior High School track meet will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Clarice Holm and Arlo Baldwin being in charge. Grades from five through ten will try out. It will be run as a regular track meet with seven stunts. The winners will receive a banner on which will be indicated the winner and grade. This banner will be kept in the school and competed for each year. A permanent record will be made and framed showing name of winner and grade for each event. This meet is a preliminary one from which contestants will be selected for the spring track meet, with the pupils of the affiliated schools of the Teachers College.

"YOUR BEST FRIEND" COMING

Tonight the students will be given a treat in the form of a moving picture show, "Your Best Friend," which comes highly recommended. It will be shown in the college auditorium under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association. It is a story of the struggles of a mother to retain the love and respect of her children in the face of difficulties. A comedy in two reels will also be shown. Admission, 15c; time, 7:00 P. M.

Miss Lommen is leaving Friday for St. Paul, and will return Saturday afternoon.

She is chairman of the Committee on Sciences, Industrial Arts and Fine Arts of the Minnesota Course of Study for Elementary Schools. The purpose of the meeting is to make the usual three-year revision of the Course of Study.

On Tuesday evening, President R. B. MacLean spoke to the Education Club at the North Dakota Agricultural College, on "Factors That Constitute a Good Teacher."

Say It With Garlic.

Oh, little Sweet Potato,
You're the apple of my eye,
If we canteloupe, dear Spinach;
Lettuce marry bye and bye.

I don't carrot all for you, sir,
You old Squash, you make me sore
My heart beats for another,
Please don't turnip anymore.

Baldwin	LF	Peltola
Erickson	C	Stardig
Storms	RG	Brewster
Gowenlock	LG	Lawrence

Substitutions—Anderson for Gowenlock, Thorson for Peltola, Granigan for Boe, Edlin for Granigan.

Field Goals—Williams 5, Baldwin 1, Erickson 1, Storms 1, Peltola 1, Stardig 2, Boe 1, Brewster 1.

Free Throws—Williams 2, Baldwin 1, Erickson 1, Storms 1, Peltola 1, Stardig 2, Boe 1, Brewster 1, Thorson 1.

Referee—Kimball.

Tomorrow night Coach Nemzek and his proteges invade Wahpeton to seek revenge for the beating the Wops game them in Moorhead two weeks ago. If the Peds play good ball they should win. A victory will take them out of the cellar position in the conference.

Music

The college orchestra is beginning work on the music class play. It is turning out to be a real task, and all who can play orchestral instruments are urged to come to the rehearsals to help with this problem.

Play Piano by Ear.

No matter how little you know about music—even though you have never touched a piano, it is no use to devote years in study to learn piano nowadays. Talent is unnecessary. Every lesson is so easy—so fascinating. Letter from a patron: "I just spent a part of my spare time with a few easy, fascinating lessons and now I am a master of the piano just as thousands of others are."—George Edwards.
