Dragons, Leading Northern Conference, Will Play Crucial Tilt Here on Saturday; Even Series With Concordia Wednesday

DEBATE SCHEDULE TENTATIVELY SET FOR M.S.T.C. SQUAD

COLLEGE DEBATERS WILL MEET MAYVILLE TEAM THERE IN FEBRUARY

With the opening debate of the women's team against Concordia College January 15, and with the announcement by Mr. Loewen of a tentative schedule for the winter, the debate season has been begun in earnest by the M. S. T. C. debaters.

Having already met and held their own against the Concordia College and the Mayville teams, the Moorhead debaters are preparing to uphold their record in ensuing contests with other schools.

On January 18 before an audience consisting of the Kiwanis Club, James Tye and Rupert Krienbring debated with the Concordia team, while on the preceding Monday Ruth Hillestad and Martha Atkinson met Ruth Haugseth and Helen Peterson, also Concordia debaters.

War Debts Argued

The question, "Should the United States Agree to the Cancellation of War Debts?" was argued Tuesday by both the women's and the men's teams of M. S. T. C. and Mayville. In the women's debate which was held in Weld Hall at 4 o'clock, with Martha Atkinson and Inez Game speaking for the negative, and Alice Tennyson and Ruth Paulson of Mayville upholding the affirmative, the discussion centered upon the following issues: (1.) Is Europe able to pay her war debts? (2.) Was America responsible for the war? (3.) Will cancellation revive trade?

Convincing points, giving evidence of a thoughtful study of the subject, were advanced by both sides. In the evening at a Glyndon community debate, the College men's team, consisting of Franklin Brown, Wilson Dokken, and Jack Bridges, upheld the affirmative of the question against the Mayville men's team.

To Meet North Dakota

The college debaters will meet the Mayville Teachers again in February when two of the M. S. T. C. teams, the men's negative and the women's affirmative, will debate at Mayville. On the following day a debate which promises to be the most interesting of the series, will be held with North Dakota University, in Weld Hall at four o'clock.

The schedule for the major trip, which as yet has not been definitely decided, makes it apparent that Mankato Teachers College will not be an active participant in the debating league this year. It is probable, however, that during February 16, 17, 18, the teams will make a tour of St. Cloud, Minneapolis, St. Paul, and Northfield.

Letters Presented In Chapel Today

Demonstrating their pep and confidence to the team before the basketball encounter with Mankato tomorrow evening on the College floor, the entire student body were profound in their cheers at the assembly this morning.

Coach Alex J. (Sliv) Nemzek gave a brief review of the football and basketball conflicts, and then presented football letters to those men who earned them for participation on the gridiron last fall. A short speech was given by Henry Booher, who is relinquishing his duties as captain to James Blaine. The following earned letters: Captain Hank Booher, H. Krajeck, H. Moberg, J. Bjerkness, J. Chisholm, V. Schranz, G. Nemzek, J. Blaine, D. Du Vall, M. Knauf, W. Erickson, M. Thompson, J. Edlund, W. Stevens, and Howard Ruegamer.

In addition ten men received honorable mention. Several of these players would have been lettermen, but for the fact that they did not play enough time because of injuries. They are: J. Krajeck, E. Eininger, P. Meyers, J. Bisek, C. McAllister, E. Gennetti, F. Costello, C. Maedl, R. Stevens, and O. Thorvaldson.

FINE ARTS PRINTS EXHIBIT HELD AT TRAINING SCHOOL

OLD AND MODERN MASTERS ARE FEATURED AT EXHIBIT JANUARY 30

A splendid opportunity for art education is afforded in the exhibit of fine art prints which will be on display next week, January 30 to February 3 at the Training School in rooms 104 and 105. There will be an admission charge of fifteen cents for M. S. T. C. students and twenty five cents for others. The exhibit was arranged for by the staff, the student teachers, and the children of the Intermediate Grades department.

This collection consists of 150 Masterpieces representing the French, Italian, Flemish, English, Dutch, Spanish, German, and American schools of art. Most of these are the masterpieces studied by the schools. The originals of these are in the most famous art galleries of the world. The reproductions are the finest type produced, showing the original color.

For anyone, whether it be for individual or for schools, this is a fine opportunity to procure pictures. Both old and modern masters are represented. Among the most famous artists represented are: Titian, Da Vinci, Gainsborough, Terborch, Murillo, Van Dyck, Raphael, and many others of the old masters, while among the more modern are reproductions by Ben Foster, George Innis, Ernest Albert, Harry Vincent, Gardner Symons, and Gustave Wiegand.

"These are pictures that you want to see and should know something about," the Intermediate department says. "You wish to keep up with the children in school. They are learning to recognize these pictures and to know something of the artists who painted them. To be able to enjoy and recognize a number of good pictures at sight, to describe them, to be familiar with the artists' names, pictures, subjects and style, is the aim of art appreciation as studied in our schools of today."

All School Party is Rejuvenated; Howling Success, "Sane" Man Proclaims

Let me paint an animated moral for the education and enlightenment of you self-souled pragmatists who "trip the light fantastic." The scene is the social room. The time is Saturday evening, the exact hour is veiled in anonymity, by inclination, but the production staff is as boldly enscribed as thereafter portrayed. The erstwhile Dr. Locke, aided and abetted by the joint endeavors of John Cox and Clarence ("Soc") Glasrud, functions virulantly (and volubly) as "Supreme Directors".

As strangely unconventional as a scene from O'Neill, and as sincerely enjoyed, is the drama which unfolds. Down the center of the luxuriant hall is a row of card tables. Along both sides of these tables, whose more accurate description is obscured, are young men and women of mature years—so the horse doctor would declare.

Through haze which is strangely unoppressive, we see the various members

COLLEGE JUBILEE WILL BE GIVEN NEXT MONDAY

REVIEW WINNER WILL BE PRESENTED WITH TROPHY BY COMMISSION

With final rehearsals scheduled for today and Saturday, all is in readiness for presentation of the second annual January Jubilee, all college musical comedy production in Weld Hall auditorium Monday, January 30, at 8 p. m.

Ten campus organizations will take an active part in this year's Jubilee, and judging from the time each organization is spending in preparation for its part on the program, the judges will be confronted with a real task when they prepare to announce the winner of the large silver loving cup.

The names of the judges have not been announced, but will be students selected from the public discussion groups of Concordia and the North Dakota Agricultural College.

Sidney Kurtz, manager of the January Jubilee, announces that the following campus groups will have a place on the program Monday evening: Country Life, Kappa Pi, Beta Chi, Pi Mu Phi, Freshmen, Owls, Sophomores, Gamma Nu, Alpha Epsilon, and the Music department.

MUSIC STUDENTS TO GIVE RECITAL

MUSIC RECITAL TO BE PRESENTED IN WELD HALL NEXT THURSDAY

Continuing its policy of presenting students in recital, the Music Department will give another program in the recital room of Weld Hall Thursday, February 2, at 4:30 p. m. Heretofore only students taking private lessons have taken part, but now not only these people will be heard, but also members of the Band and Orchestra will demonstrate their ability.

From Mrs. Locke's studio the following students appear: Laurence Norin playing "A Major Sonata", Debussy's "Galloway's Cake Walk" by Alice Nelson; "Sonata Op 10—No. 1," Beethoven, played by Phoebe Ayles; and "Ghosts" by Schiitt, played by Mildred Lee.

Mrs. Kise presents: Marie Wilds singing "La Lummer Fields" by Brahms; Marjorie Ness, "Songs My Mother Taught Me" by Dvorak, and Elaine Magnusson singing "Sanctuary" by La Forge. Two violin numbers are heard from Mrs. Preston's studios. They are Vuinlaw's "Twilight", a solo by Alice Nelson; and "Melody" by Bach, a duet by Dorothy Hoel and Alice Nelson.

Mr. Preston presents two male voices. Clare Hallack will sing two numbers: "It is Enough", from "Elijah", by Mendelssohn, and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," by Burleigh. Marvin Rice, will sing "A Song of Waiting" by Wright.

of that group crouched over their half of the table, and with cheeks painfully distended, yes' bulging, and sweat standing forth in beads, jetting hot air, sputum, flotsam and jetsum into the equally distorted face of his next neighbor, who is retorting in kind. All barriers go the way of all flesh—dignity is lost in the melee—the gentler sex is no longer gentle—spasmodic explosions of mirth only serve to further impregnate the surrounding atmosphere and the neighbor's face (no towels were furnished).

Just a moment—the last clashing chord—"A touchdown"—and as the smoke of battle rolls away, one tiny inoffensive white ball, and a puny red balloon fills in the missing incidents of this tale of parlor football.

P. S. (previously sanguine) there's no hint of insincerity in this—the "party for sane people" was a howling success—let's have more like it.

MANKATO, GREATEST THREAT, ARRIVES FRESH FROM EASY WIN OVER WINONA

Wednesday Will Settle Dragon-Cobber Series, Now Even Up After Crimson Victory, 28-27, in M. S. T. C. Gymnasium This Week Before Frenzied Crowd

Confronted with one of the biggest obstacles to be hurdled in the mad race for Northern Teachers Conference basketball championship honors, the Dragons must be at their height if they wish to overthrow Mankato Teachers tomorrow night in the College gym. The match will be the last home Conference game for the Dragons this season, the balance of the league schedule being played on the road. The crucial tilt comes as the intermediate step between a victory over Concordia here last Wednesday, 28-27, and the final and deciding game of this local series to be played in the Dragon gymnasium next Wednesday evening as Concordia's home affair.

LYCEUM BUREAU CHOOSES HEADS

LYCEUM SERVICE INAUGURATED FOR THE BENEFIT OF COMMUNITY

A Community Lyceum Service Bureau, a student and faculty project, has been organized on the campus, the purpose of which is to furnish available talent to local communities for clubs and programs. Mr. Kise is chairman of the group, and Dr. Archer is corresponding secretary. The group includes Mr. Preston, Mr. Uggan, Mrs. Locke, Mrs. Kise, Mr. Murray, Dorothy Hoel, Gorman Thompson, and Donald Bird. Mr. Murray is assisting with the publicity of the group of students and faculty members which will carry on the work permanently.

The contention of the Bureau is that the institution may be of greater service to the outlying communities, and that the scheme will serve as a motivation for those students participating in this kind of work. Talent of every kind will be represented through the Bureau. There will be available speakers on timely subjects, music talent including piano, voice, and instrumental groups, and, perhaps, if there is a demand, a few one-act plays will be presented. The debate team will also make an appearance if requested.

The advantage of a bureau of this nature is that the material is prepared, rehearsed and ready for presentation. The services are not only available to the outlying communities but also to any local school organization. The talent is available to any organization on condition that the cost of transportation be paid.

If there is any student who knows of an organization in his home community which would wish to use this talent, he is requested to see Mr. Kise, in Room 240. Also, any suggestions from students for faculty members will be appreciated by those in charge.

Schedule Posted For Group Pictures

With plans rapidly progressing and many new features being incorporated the Praeceptor staff is rapidly getting under way with its work. The theme of the yearbook has been decided on, and plans for each section have been well arranged. The opening section and the divisional pages have been improved, according to Clarence Glasrud, Detroit Lakes, Editor in Chief of the Annual.

The schedule for the taking of group photos tomorrow is as follows: 9:30, Y. W. C. A.; 9:40, Y. M. C. A.; 9:50, Newman Club; 10:00, Country Life Club; 10:10, Art Club; 10:20, Student Commission; 10:30, Pi Mu Phi; 10:40, Psi Delta Kappa; 10:50, Activity Fee Commission; 11:00, Beta Chi; 11:10, Gamma Nu; 11:20, Owls; 11:30, Alpha Epsilon; 11:40, Alpha Psi Omega.

Other group photographs will be taken at a later date, and announcements will be posted on the bulletin board in the near future.

WORLD TOPICS ARE DISCUSSED BY LOCAL CLUB

The International Relations Club will hold a meeting Monday, January 30, at 3 o'clock in Ingleside. The program will be in the form of a discussion on world topics. Action will probably be taken on the constitution which was presented at the last meeting.

MR. ERICKSON TO ADDRESS CHAPEL

DR. DUNIWAY OF CARLETON COLLEGE WILL APPEAR HERE WEDNESDAY

On February 1, in chapel, Dr. Clyde Duniway of Carleton College will be the principal speaker, while on the following Wednesday, February 8, Mr. T. A. Erickson, connected with the Agricultural Service of the University of Minnesota and the United States Department of Agriculture, and State Club Leader, will be the principal speaker.

"This is an age of progress and not an age of depression." The above statement was made by Dr. O. J. Hagen, former resident director of M. S. T. C. and now member of the board of regents of the University of Minnesota, at chapel last Wednesday morning. His introduction was chiefly concerned with Robert Burns, whose birthday anniversary was Wednesday. Quoting Dr. Hagen: "If Bobby Burns had lived in the present age of unrest he would be breaking the bars—in more than one sense."

Cox, Veitch Nominated To Edit 1934 Annual

A committee appointed by the president of the Student Commission for the purpose of nominating the editor-in-chief of the 1934 Praeceptor met last Tuesday, nominating for the position, Cecil Veitch, Fargo, and Berenice Cox, Moorhead. The nominating committee is composed of Mr. Murray, adviser of school publications, Axel Taffin, editor of the MISTIC, and Clarence Glasrud, editor of the 1933 yearbook.

MAINTAINING A TRADITION

From the maelstrom of conflicting interests, prior rights, and traditional privileges, comes some semblance of order, and tranquility reigns over the silent toiling of some twenty organizations busy preparing for the staging of the second annual January Jubilee.

As is to be expected of an innovation relatively new, which is introduced into the calendar for the year, the Jubilee has been subject to much discussion pro and con, and has encountered considerable obstacles. However, the relatively startling success of its initial staging one year ago is, in itself, a powerful reason for its continuance as a mid-winter tradition.

Compromising on its potential interference with the annual class play to be given in February, the Jubilee has been charted for the 30th of January, which leaves but a few days now for preparation. Such a brief period for rehearsal only means more pointed and concentrated effort. As the chairman of the fete committee aptly phrases it, "That just eliminates the two weeks of stalling around which is customary in preparing such things". That there is some meat in that remark, one must admit.

The January Jubilee stands alone as the one great outlet for the initiative, ingenuity, and achievement of the various organizations on the campus. The realization of its merit by the students as evidenced in the way in which they are wholeheartedly supporting the project, promises the preservation of the idea as the feature of future years.

ONE SIDED

"Tell me what pictures hang upon his walls and what books are his companions and I will tell you what manner of man he is", are the words of a wise man.

That the school should train for the use and choice of good books is accepted, and every school does this obviously, to a greater or less extent. But to be well educated means a many-sided development, and the knowledge of art is one of the prerequisites of modern education.

The opportunity for training in art is found at M. S. T. C., as is training available in other lines. Do you make use of it? Do you go into the library day after day and still not know that there are beautiful pictures there. Do you go to Miss Lommen's office at the Training School and as you enter the room, not see the beautiful fjord across from you? Perhaps it takes a Norwegian to appreciate that fjord but at that, we're Norwegians, aren't we all? Are you throwing away that opportunity for developing your choice of good pictures?

Joy in line, form and color was instinctive even in primitive man, and this love of the beautiful can be developed to a higher level in students.

Do not miss the opportunities to develop on all sides, for if you have no talent along one line, at least develop an understanding and appreciation for it. Be not the manner of man about whom one says: "He is one sided"—or, "He has a one-track mind." Rather let it be said: "He is a musician, but he surely knows a great deal about pictures, too".

In addition to your enjoyment, the desire to know good pictures may be realized by visiting the exhibit of Fine Art Prints to be held at the Training School, Room 104 and 105 beginning January 30 to February 3.

SAVING TIME

"But dost thou love life? then do not squander time, for that's the stuff life is made of," says Benjamin Franklin in Poor Richard's Almanac.

Isn't it just as true that people of today need to be thrifty, as in the days of Poor Richard in 1732. Times are different, but Dick's philosophy is still broad and serviceable.

"It would be thought a hard government that should tax its people one tenth part of their time to be employed in its service, but idleness taxes many of us much more, if we reckon all that is spent in absolute sloth or doing of nothing with that which is spent in idle employments or amusements that amount to nothing."

In times like these especially, every student should be thrifty. But, a student will perhaps say he has no money to save; what he spends, he does so because he must. Thrift, however, may apply to other things besides money. Are students going through college without learning to be thrifty? Indeed some students learn to be thrifty in a short time, while others who go through four years of college still have not learned how to conserve their time. As Poor Richard's says, "Lost time is never found again, and what we call Time enough always proves little enough."

Benjamin Franklin planned his day. He called it his "Scheme of Order." Isn't that one of the forms of thrift attributed to him? He rose early, and his day's plans were from 5 A. M. to 10 P. M. That included his time for recreation, too. In the evening he planned his next day. Yet in later years he said of all the virtues that he tried to attain, the system of order was the hardest to get. A student can plan his day and systematize his work and thereby accomplish much more than he does.

From The Editor's Semicircle

We pause to congratulate the Social Commissioner, the Deans, and all others who have helped to solve the difficulty in regard to having a party attended universally.

Judging from the enthusiasm shown during the past week, the January Jubilee promises to be a bigger affair than ever.

Now that the second Dragon-Cobber tilt is over, many students will have the opportunity to build up their nerves, which in many cases, were shattered at the last encounter.

The debating season was officially opened last Tuesday afternoon when the college girls team met the Mayville Teachers College.

Isn't it strange with all the activity and life among the MiSTiC staff, Praeceptor staff, etc., that there isn't a "Press Club".

Why not satisfy your curiosity by seeing what actually goes on in Weld Hall between 11 and 12 o'clock Friday mornings.

THE OPEN COLUMN

In the open column letter last week regarding the basketball situation, may I ask the writer a few questions? He was continually referring to the basketball team as the Dragons. Is the term, Dragon, a term applied only to the team? The student body is represented by the athletic teams, and all vituperative terms which the "slinger of flowery language" used in describing the team could well be taken, modified ten times, adding a few good cuss words for good measure and it would describe the former attitude of the student body. This person was one of the most "profound pessimists" during the Jamestown game (aha—a personal confession) did he grumble? scold? cuss under his breath for some imagined wrong? Indeed he did! Then this scolding applies to the writer as well as to whom it may concern.

Kindly consider what a player has to contend with when he comes on the floor. Before he starts playing—what feeling may he get? His school doesn't care whether he wins, and if he loses, they'll reprimand him—one person even having the nerve to exercise his vocabulary spitting words of lightly veiled sarcasm in the school paper. The Dragon team of M. S. T. C. may be credited when they win a game in spite of schism and opposition within their own group—doubly credited when they win against such teams as those in the Conference.

Even if a team loses to such teams as the Dragon teams have been playing, with full support of the students, it is no shame. It doesn't mean that the team has become "somnolent lizards" instead of fire-eating Dragons." Ask any player about how he feels to have people "pulling for him", ask any one how it feels to have the knowledge that win or lose, people are for him, ask yourself frankly how you would feel if you knew your associates were mud slinging at your playing or work.

Finally can we not cooperate in coming to games, yelling when we get there, pulling for the team; and that is all we can do except give our psychological help to any activity the College may support—at least it doesn't cost anything.

—O. A.

Misses Lommen, Loudon, Carlson, Sorknes, Wenck, Undseth, and Mrs. Durboraw were guests of Billy, Mary, and Leslie Walwork at a luncheon on Saturday noon.

The men's double quartet of M. S. T. C. sang before the North Dakota Press Association meeting on Friday evening in Fargo.

There are rumblings to the effect that the Dragons will make a general exodus to St. Cloud on February 25, basketball, hockey, and swimming teams making the trip. Whether this is a definite plan (which we are inclined to doubt) or not, it's a good idea.

Lutheran College, Seguin Texas, boasts some year-old banana trees growing on the campus that, if left unmolested by hungry freshmen, will yield within a year enough fruit for the whole school.

W. A. L. Will Initiate New Members Soon

At the regular meeting of the W. A. L. held Monday night at 7:30 in room 250 of the Physical Education building, plans were discussed for the initiation of new members. Initiation ceremonies will take place at the last regular meeting of this term. It was decided to hold a regular meeting of the Women's Athletic Board the first Thursday in every month during the nine o'clock free period. At the February meeting, hockey, kickball, and swimming teams for the fall term will be approved by the board. Candidates who are eligible for membership will be voted upon at this time.

Affiliated Schools

Clearview School Community held a birthday party for Miss Hoganson on Sunday. It was given in the form of a handkerchief shower. About one hundred people were present. Miss Winters and the student teachers gave an interesting program. A make-believe radio broadcasting station was represented with Mr. Oraas as the announcer.

The two-year rural students changed schools at the mid-term. The list is as follows: Sunnyside—Mabel Peterson and Lorena Abell; Riverside—Hilda Westrum and Celia Johnson; Gundersen—Julien Meyer and Sigurd Malen; Grover—Melvin Sabo and Otto Bridgeman.

Four Years Ago

The Athletic Board sponsored a carnival which was held in the College gymnasium. Ted Nemezek was chairman of the general committee. The groups were to present stunts.

Three Years Ago

Candidates for the Student Commission were announced. The election will be held February 28.

Two Years Ago

The M. S. T. C. debate team will meet the University of Pittsburg debaters in Weld Hall Wednesday night. The question for debate is: "Resolved that the several states should enact compulsory employment laws."

Al Cocking was knocked out in a recent hockey game, and his friend young Wilbur Brown obligingly took him to the doctor's office. But the doctor said he couldn't do anything with Al's head because he (the doctor) was too old to play with blocks.

Bill Robinson wishes to inform the readers of this column (or whatever you call it) that he is not the poet who is responsible for the lovely, meaningful poem published last week. He lays the laurels of authorship at the door of a West Fargo teacher. Aha! the mystery deepens.

Dr. Archer, when about to give his Extra-Curricular Activities class a test said, "This is a very simple test—if you know the answers to these questions."

The other day in Sight-Singing class, Harry Ward asked Mr. Preston if he had a pencil. Mr. Preston diligently searched his pockets but failed to locate one. A classmate supplied one. In a few minutes a member of the fair sex asked Mr. Preston for a pencil also and he with no trouble or hesitation took one out of his coat and gave it to her. Was this just an act of an absent-minded professor or discrimination? We ask you.

If you want a stable government, you must have horse sense and the president has to learn to say nay.

The Journalism classes are still at their work of rejuvenating the MiSTiC. Their aim is a bigger and better MiSTiC by the end of this term. By the way John O'Brien is the editor this week.

An independent basketball team called the Dragon-Fly's has been formed. When O'Brien heard about it, he said quite naively, "Quick Henry! The Flit"! Well, anyway, they didn't get exterminated in the first game.

Soc: "Do you like dress suits?" Lyman: "Yes, that's my long suit."

Teacher: "Use the word fascinate in a sentence."

Dokken: "Ray Simonitsch has nine buttons on his vest, but he can only fasten eight".

One instructor recently said that the mind is relieved of its burden when a person is in a state of unconsciousness. Maybe that's why Wilbur leads such a pleasant, happy-go-lucky existence.

Here's a suggestion for those whose grammar and punctuation are something fierce! They should try dialect stories.

The School for Officers certainly does provide one with an opportunity for parliamentary development. Mr. Dokken last week learned that the whole process is somewhat involved and that people will do their best to confuse each other.

STUDENTS RECEIVE SCHOLASTIC HONORS

SEVENTEEN STUDENTS PLACED ON HONOR ROLL FOR THE SIX WEEK PERIOD

Closing the school period from Nov. 29 to January 20, seventeen students have been honored by being placed on the Honor Roll.

The following students have been placed in the A Honor Group: Grade 12, Leverett Hoag, Mary Holmquist, Fern Lee, Delores Iverson; Grade 11, Lone Foss; Grade 10, Kenneth Whitnack; Grade 9, Harold Johnk; Grade 8, Alton Peterson. To receive this honor a student must earn at least two A's and B's in the remainder of his subjects.

To be placed on the B Honor Roll a student must earn all marks of B or above. The following have received this honor: Grade 12, Dagny Edlund; Grade 11, Alfred Amundson, Adelaide Anderson, Florence Iverson; Grade 9, Bernhard Bekerhus; Grade 8, Phyllis Fortin; Grade 7, Betty Huggelund, Ralph Davis and Nels Thysell.

Kindergarten

After the mid-year promotion, the kindergarten now has nine new members: Cecilia Marquart, Audrey Burr, Joanne Moberg, Hubert Thompson, George Sundlie, Ruth Kittleson, Patsy Briggs, Billy Preston, and Stephen Peter Reinertsen.

Primary

A new class of seven members promoted from the kindergarten to the primary. From the first to the second grades, six children were promoted.

Good standards for a reading club membership was discussed by the first grade; after which such a club was organized. Officers will be elected at the first meeting which will be held this week.

The nature study class of second graders has learned how to read a thermometer. With some experiments, they learned that water "takes more room" when it freezes, and that drops of water form when steam strikes something cold.

Intermediate

The intermediate grades are preparing for their picture exhibit which will be held from January 30 to February 3. They are studying various pictures from the Collection of one hundred fifty which will be on show. They intend to have a picture recognition contest soon.

Women's Tourney Reaches Final Round

Naomi Vinette's team won a 15-10 victory over Lorraine Sandie's team in their first round of the tournament. Vinette was high point scorer for the winners; Sandie and Hanson for the losers. In the second round, Cora Urness' team was the victor over Norma Larson's, the score being 19-10. High scorer for the winners was Swalley and Larson and Criser for the losers. Betty Hoag beat Lorraine Sandie 22-7 in the third round. Ann Meyers was high scorer, making 11 of the total 22 points. Olive Askegaard showed brilliant playing as guard. Bestick and Sandie were outstanding for the losers.

In the first round of the B tournament, Margaret Johnson's team won a 13-9 victory over Leveta Bryson. Hanson and Johnson were prominent. The second round was a game between Ina Aker's team and the College High. Aker carried the scoring honors for the winners, Fannie Stusiak for the losers. The score was 16-10 for Aker's team. Aker beat Bryson 20-4 in the third round.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS TO GIVE SHORT PLAY

At a regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night, Arnold Kittelson, James Bridges, and Harry Stadium led the discussion on the topic, "How is the Bible the inspired Word of God." Plans were also made for presenting a short play by the group with Norman Halvorson in charge.

GARLAND AND HIS FRIENDS

When Hamlin Garland, noticing the tobacco jar on Sir James Barrie's desk, said, "I suppose that is 'the Arcadian mixture.' I hope you made a great deal of money out of its sale," Barrie confessed that he had only imagined the mixture. Another man had patented it, and had made millions out of it. "The truth is," he added, "I did not smoke at all when I wrote 'My Lady Nicotine'. I was led to begin this deplorable habit by the charm of my own description of it." But he gave this explanation "with a comic gleam in his eyes."

This is one of the scores of amusing and interesting stories Mr. Garland tells of the many celebrated writers he has known, in his new book, "My Friendly Contemporaries", received this week at the library.

The New York Evening Post calls this book "Not only a record of Mr. Garland's own life and work but in some important ways a mirror of the William "Jumbo" Morano, star guard of the Sing Sing football team was recently released on Parole, to the great consternation of his coach and team mates. He was immediately signed up with a well-known eastern professional eleven.

DRAGONS DOWN COBBERS 28 - 27 IN WILD BATTLE

ROBINSON AND MATTSOON LEAD
DRAGON ATTACK; SCORE
AT HALF, 14-11

A fighting, clawing bunch of Dragon basketballers, angered at the attempts of the Concordia Cobbers to gain the City championship, fought brilliantly to maintain a three point lead gained at half time and eked out a victory by a 28-27 count last Wednesday in the College gymnasium. Buzz Robinson and Mattson, flashy sophomore forwards, led the triumphant Dragons, scoring eighteen points between them.

Bjerke opened the scoring for Concordia by sinking a field goal, and after Buzz Robinson had made a free throw for the Dragons, Malvey counted to put the Cobbers in the lead, 4-1. Then Bibs Mattson got his first counter and Rasmussen made a setup to put the Dragons ahead 5-4. Buzz Robinson then sank a free throw, and Thompson made a basket to increase the Dragon lead to four points.

Concordia tied the count with a basket by Pat Hilde, and a free throw by Malvey. The Cobbers again forged into the lead, after Booher had made a free throw, when Moran scored a setup to make the count 10-9. Two free throws by Mattson and a field goal and gift shot by Buzz Robinson brought the Dragon count to fourteen at half time, while Bjerke's free throw boosted Concordia's score to eleven.

Opening the second half with a free throw, Mattson increased the Dragon lead to 15-11, but the Cobbers immediately went into the lead on two baskets by Hilde and one by Moran, and a free throw by Bjerke, to make the score 18-15.

The Dragons, battling harder every moment, brought the count to 20 all, and then went into the lead on a basket by Mattson. Robinson followed this, after Bjerke had made a free throw, with a nice counter to make the count Dragons, 24; Cobbers, 21.

Again Concordia came back to tie the count at 24 all, but the Dragons, not to be repulsed, went into the lead which they were to retain to the final whistle, when Buzz Robinson counted from the field. Bjerke narrowed the margin to one point by sinking a free throw, and then Rasmussen made the final Dragon counter with a beautiful side shot and the game ended a short time later, after Moran sank a field goal to make the final count, Dragons, 28; Cobbers, 27.

Buzz Robinson, with eleven points, led the scorers of both teams, and furnished the spark plug for the Dragon's power. Bibs Mattson played a brilliant defensive game and had seven points before he left the game on personals. Rasmussen, the lanky center, was especially strong in regaining the ball off the backboard, and before he was ejected with four fouls near the end of the game, had tallied six points. The defensive work of Booher and Thompson was steady enough to stop the Cobber attack short of victory, and the pair gave a nice exhibition of passing and ball-handling.

For the Cobbers, Moran, Hilde, and Malvey kept the struggle close by their fine passing and accuracy at the hoop. Bjerke and Miller also performed well in holding down the Dragon score.

The game, replete, with thrills, was marked by hard, fast playing with the result that 27 personal fouls were called on both teams, the Dragons losing Mattson and Rasmussen via the foul route, and the Cobbers, Hilde.

DRAGON CAGERS DEFEAT DULUTH ON LOCAL FLOOR

PILE UP LEAD IN FIRST PERIOD
MAINTAIN ADVANTAGE
UNTIL THE END

Safeguarded by a tremendous lead piled up in the first half, the Dragon cagers slacked through the second period of the tilt with Duluth Teachers College, yet won 42-29, placing them at the top of the Northern Teachers Conference. The Dragon quint showed its finest form in the first ten minutes, when it rolled up fifteen points before its bewildered opponents could find the net.

Again the starting combination was different than previous games, yet functioned effectively throughout most of the first half. The starting crew, essentially intact, garnered 27 points to 7 for the Lake quint at the mid-time; however, with the opening of the second chapter, the Duluth outfit came back with a determined rush, against which the regulars quailed. At this point Nemzek called up almost an entire new team, which took the floor in time to partially check the frantic Duluthians and to score enough points to give the Dragons a safe lead for the remainder of the contest.

The high scorer for the Crimson and White was Bibs Matson, who entered the fray with part of the second half already up but who scored five goals—his score for last week—for a total of ten points. Hank Booher and Bill Robinson tied for second place laurels with eight units each. Maynard Thompson again showed up as an outstanding guard, playing coolly and excellently at the guard position.

For Duluth, the center Mason caused the scorer to chalk up twelve points for the easterners on the big automatic scoreboard. Enricho, former all-state high-school player, tossed in four field goals for eight points.

MANKATO ARRIVES TO PLAY DRAGONS

over, forwards; Rice, center; and Delts and Hoerr, guards, are like to get the starting call with Kienholz, giant guard, and Robinson and Nolan, a pair of Freshmen, held in reserve.

In order to maintain their position as league leaders, the Dragons must win tomorrow night's game, as a defeat would drop them to second or third place. Then comes the third of the series with the Cobbers next Wednesday. Before meeting Bemidji, February 11, the Dragons will have a brief respite from league play, but then on successive Saturdays they will encounter Duluth and St. Cloud.

Baby Dragons Meet Barnesville Tonight

Piling up a sixteen point lead in the first five minutes of the game, the Hawley High School basketballers maintained their lead to defeat the Baby Dragon quintet on the College floor last Friday night, 34-20.

Dragons Defeat A.C. Freshmen in Hockey

Displaying an impregnable defence, and occasionally flashing a brilliant offense, the Dragon Hockey team, led by Lottie Wambach defeated the North Dakota State College Freshmen on the Island Park rink 4 goals to 3.

Stopping an avalanche of pucks in the third period, Bob Jeffries showed signs of becoming a dependable hockey player. Lottie Wambach again departed himself in a fine fashion to make two goals, one unassisted. Brown scored on a pass from Larson late in the second period, which was soon followed by a tally from the club of Leonard Larson.

Flashing a brilliant attack, the Dragon hockey team defeated the Fargo Rockets composed of players from the fast Moorhead-Fargo Comets on the Island Park rinks last Sunday 6 goals to 2.

Augmented by the addition of Ries and Peterson, two Moorhead players, the Dragons had the upper hand all through the game with the Rockets unable to count until the closing minutes of play.

Wambach led the Dragons with Brown doing good work also.

Optimistic Freshmen To Hold Hard Time Party

It was decided at the last meeting of the Freshman class that their term affair is to be held Friday, February 17, as a hard time party, and the upper class men and faculty will be invited. Everyone must come appropriately dressed in the spirit of the times or he (or she) must be on the outside looking in to see the fun—and there'll be plenty, according to Ragnar Hanson. It has not been decided whether or not the upper class "fems" will be invited, but it is being considered. The choice of the orchestra will be made this week.

Another big item considered at the meeting was the January Jubilee. To be in charge as committee chairman is Harry Ward, brain child of the committee, who promises to be a high light of the Jubilee. He is assisted by Jewel Ydste, Joe Best, and Signe Olson; also an assistant is Rags Hanson, president of the class. When we consider the exceptional talent of the present outstanding Frosh class (tsk, tsk) we know it'll be good.

Seventy-eight foreign countries, unsolicited, took part in the George Washington Bicentennial Celebration this past year.
