J. Strong moved, S. Roy seconded, to amend statements 2 and 3 of the proposal to read: staffing and scheduling will be determined by the department in consultation with the committee or director of the program. Motion to amend carried. Motion to approve the following amended procedures carried.

When APAC considers a course submitted by a department, the qualifications of the person teaching that course is specified. Approval by APAC assumes that if that particular faculty person does not teach the course, the department can decide who else is qualified.

When APAC considers a course submitted by a committee, a list of the qualifications of the person who will teach the course should be provided. However, the committee should also designate the department responsible for the course (or departments), or in the case where there is no designated department, the degree or other professional qualifications required should be listed. If a department is designated, then it is assumed that:

1. control of course content will remain in the department.
2. staffing will be determined by the department in consultation with the committee or director of the program.
3. scheduling will be determined by the department in consultation with the committee or director of the program.
4. credits generated will be applied to the department.
