Home-coming Game, Banquet, and Dance Scheduled for Alumni Who Will Be Here for North West Central Education Meeting

SQUAD PLAYS AT ST. CLOUD TODAY

LITTLE KNOWN OF ST. CLOUD TEAM; PEDS TO SEE N. D.-MINNESOTA GAME

The Ped machine, heartened by its easy victory over Park Region, is resting in St. Cloud this morning in preparation for the annual clash between the two schools, which will take place this afternoon. The game today is the first of the so-called "heavy dates" on the Ped schedule.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

- Sept. 24—Park Region 0, Moorhead 50.
- Sept. 30—St. Cloud at St. Cloud.
- Oct. 8—Wahpeton at Moorhead.
- Oct. 15—Concordia at Concordia.
- Oct. 22—Jamestown at Moorhead.
- Oct. 29—Valley City at Valley City.
- Nov. 5—Ellendale at Moorhead.
- Nov. 11—Mayville at Moorhead.

All games are conference contests except the St. Cloud and Concordia games.

While nothing definitely is known of the strength of the St. Cloud team, it has been reported that they will, as usual, have a strong team, and that is information enough to convince the doubters that the Peds will have to play "A No. 1" ball to garner a victory.

Smith May Play.

Coach Nemzek feels that four days of hard practice has ironed out many of the rough spots which were brought to light during Saturday's melee. Injuries may hamper the squad today, Zech and Burton having emerged from the Park Region game with back injuries. However, this blow is offset in a measure by the established eligibility of George Edwards and the return of Ralph Smith to school. Smith recently underwent an operation for tonsillitis, but it is hoped that he will be able to play at least part of the game today.

Squad Leaves Thursday.

The squad left for St. Cloud, Thursday, arriving there last night. At the time of this writing it was thought that the following men would be among the "Perambulating Peds": V. Anderson, Zech, Gowenlock, Burton, Vinz, Baldwin, Edwards, Oraas, Ted Nemzek, Claude Nemzek, H. Erickson, Ringdahl, Townsend, A. Simson, Lowry, Smith, Leland, Bordsen, student manager, and Coach Nemzek.

After the game the squad will leave for Minneapolis to see the Gophers and the Flickertails play.

Everyone is required to make a deposit of one dollar.

After the business meeting the remainder of the time was spent in a social way by playing get-acquainted games. The meeting was well attended.

PEDS OVERWHELM PARK REGION MEN

SMOTHER PARK REGION WITH 50-0 SCORE; TEAM DISPLAYS GOOD FORM

The Ped football team opened the current season with a 50-0 victory over Park Region Luther College of Fergus Falls. From the time the opening whistle was heard until the final whistle relieved the Lutherans, the boys from Fergus Falls did not have a chance to gather a victory over their heavier and better playing opponents, but they came back fighting and gave all they had to keep the score within reasonable limits.

Make Eight Touchdowns.

The ferocity of the Crimson attack was attested by the fact that the Moorhead eleven pushed over eight touchdowns by straight football.

Park Region did not make a single first down, and this speaks for itself as far as the defense of the local eleven is concerned.

Four minutes after the game started, Burton crossed the Lutheran goal line for the first score of the season. Baldwin's kick for point missed. This tally came as a result of line bucks down the field, Burton carrying the ball over from the 25-yard line.

Quarter Score 6-0.

The first quarter ended with a score of 6 to 0 in favor of the Crimson.

Two minutes after the opening of the second quarter, Anderson counted the second tally of the fray with a pretty 29-yard run. The pass for the point after touchdown was incomplete.

Gorder Forced Out.

With their ace, Gorder, out of the game, Park Region weakened, and after a parade down the field, a pass, Anderson to Zech, tallied again.

The Teachers hammered at their lighter opponents' line for some time, and with forty seconds left to the half, Baldwin tossed a beautiful pass to Claude Nemzek, who caught the ball and raced for the goal line. However, Dame Fortune failed to notice him just then, and he fell two yards from the coveted position just as the whistle sounded, granting respite to the players.

Second Half Fast.

During the half, strange things took place in Room 8, for the Peds came back and ran the count to the half-century mark before the scrimmage was ended.

Touchdowns during this half of the game were made by Baldwin, 2; Vinz, 2, and Burton, 1.

At times the game resembled a track meet, the locals making yardage at will. Four times they paraded down the field, not losing the ball during this time, and ending with a touchdown.

Some Ragged Play.

The Peds conducted themselves very creditably for a first game, though at certain times the playing looked anything but polished. The

COMMERCE HEAD, PRESIDENT SPEAK

M. S. T. C. students were officially welcomed to Moorhead last Wednesday in chapel by D. A. Caldwell, secretary of the Moorhead Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Caldwell is a graduate of the Whitewater (Wis.) Normal School and the University of Wisconsin. As a former college student, he has an insight into our needs. He advised us to make the most of our college days, both as to scholarship and as to sociability. Today there is more need for an education than ever before, for we are doing away with unskilled labor.

Our school days in Moorhead are to be among the most beneficial of our life. As Mr. Caldwell said, "You should make the most of them."

President MacLean Speaks.

We were glad to hear a "home talent" speech in chapel last Friday. President MacLean spoke on the "Conditions of Success."

Some of the factors which make for success, according to Mr. MacLean, are as follows: opportunity, an absorbing interest, personal integrity, philanthropy, creative genius, and preparation.

Preparation is one of the most important of them all. It involves physical fitness, social integrity, scholarship, and technique of teaching. One should develop personality and character.

Quoting President MacLean: "Success rests with you."

The class in children's literature under Miss Gibbon presented Thursday in their classroom a program on fables, including papers on Le Fontaine and Aesop, stories of the most popular fables, and contrasts between various traditional fables. This is but one of many similar plans the class intends to carry out during the course, which at present is taking the form of a retrospect of childhood literary memories.

THESIS IS SUMMARIZED IN ELEMENTARY JOURNAL

"A Comparative Study of Ratings of Teachers-in-training and Teachers-in-service," is the title of an article appearing in the September issue of the Elementary School Journal written by S. A. Hamrin, member of the Education Department staff of the college.

The thesis of the same name is the result of a comparative study made by Mr. Hamrin of the ratings of the members of the spring graduating class of 1925 of the State Teachers College as shown by rating sheets of the training school supervisors and the superintendents and principals under whom these graduates were teaching during the year 1926-27.

THE M. E. A.
A week from Thursday we are to be hosts to the Northwest Central Minnesota Education Association. Our guests will be noted educators and alumni members, who have, with us, a common interest: the teaching profession. They are coming here to help us solve our school problems and to solve their own. In return for our hospitality, they will bring us new contacts with the outside world. Without doubt the inspiration they leave will spur us on to bigger and better work. Who has not come away from a convention without a definite uplifted feeling, conscious of an urge to try twice as hard, to work out our problems with more courage and enthusiasm? Nor will anyone deny that friendships are renewed and made stronger as we take part in the various activities of M. E. A.
The college has left it up to us as to whether or not we shall stay in Moorhead on Friday or Saturday. It is our opportunity to show that we are worthy of responsibility by staying for the meetings and welcoming the old "grads," who see enough in M. S. T. C. to come back once a year for this homecoming week of inspiration and pleasure.

THE HOME-FOLKS
A box of eats from home! How good it makes us feel to know someone is back of us; someone who will be interested in our successes, yes, and in our failures, too; and who has lovingly and carefully packed that box of cookies, smiling all the while at the warm welcome it is sure to receive.
We go back and remember how interested they were in our various plans, how everything was put in perfect order, how Mother proudly helped us plan our packing, how Dad strapped up our trunk. Mother it was who gave the last critical glances to the "going-away" clothes. Can we ever forget the sight of our shining-eyed younger brothers and sisters who proudly see us off to college?
They watch for letters, and when they arrive, pore over them excitedly. They begin to expect them, and, if the letters fail to appear, they are disappointed. We little think how much they mean. Have you written your home folks this week?

DO YOU THINK?
Progressive people do their own thinking; progressive schools do their own thinking. Parents have a right to demand originality from their school. They should have a school that has its own ideas about the right environment in which to place their children.
Original thinking comes not from attending a school that gives you your education. You must go and get it.

THE OPEN COLUMN
SCHOOL SPIRIT
There are many things of more or less importance which combine to form college life. One of the foremost of these is realold-fashioned school spirit. We do not want to say that the modern college has deteriorated in this respect, but a football game should be a sufficient test. What could call more for loyal lusty cheering support than a sturdy line of crimson-clad warriors plunging through to victory—sweeping away opposition like chaff? School sport is an activity that helps to develop an intelligent and dynamic enthusiasm in any institution, but we want athletics in our school that develop judgment, poise, courage, and perseverance for the participants.
To bring these desirable traits to others, let us pass it from the field of battle on that slender thread of school spirit that eventually shall be woven into an indestructible fiber that shall hold the students and faculty together in a group with a true and deeper understanding of each other.
Not only on the athletic field is this spirit to be manifested, but it should be shown on the campus, in the class room, and in every organization which our alma mater so proudly boasts. The physical side cannot be overstressed, but in the acquisition of a complete education the spirit and personality of one's real self must be brought out. There are organizations at M. S. T. C. which are excellent in this respect, which, if supported by every student with the right spirit, will help in that student's development. As a man is known by the company he keeps so a college is known by the spirit it manifests. Let the students yip-yip for our football games—let them whoop with delight at victory—even walk from class with spirit! But we must also remember the other phase of this spirit. In the struggle for existence one doesn't always come out at the top, but why not grin and bear it? If the Peds are not always on top, grin and bear it! Smile when you win, but don't demonstrate a let us strive for that acme of perfection that will place the M. S. T. C. on a pedestal of individuality when it comes to manifesting a true school spirit.

GUS AND BESS
St. Cloud, Minn.
Sept. 30, 1927

Dear Bess:
Just a few lines penned during a few moments which I will snatch from the cares of the day, cause even tho I don't write regular, I think of you lots except when I'm playing football. Then I think of my past mostly. I suppose you have read all about my being a star, etc. Well, Bess, don't imagine that it has gone to my head, because it's not. I am still wearing the same hat tho it is kinda small.
I will tell you all about my debut as an athlete, knowing that you will keep the true facts to yourself. You see the coach begged so hard that I put a suit on before the game. During the second half the coach says, "All right, Gus, take left end and let's see you tear 'em up." I was playing left end already,—on the bench—and I was contented. However, I went in just to show how kind-hearted I was, and right away I got penalized 5 yds. for not reporting to the referee. I didn't know that you had to broadcast the fact that you were there before they'd let you play. Then the draw back called a lot of numbers, and then I saw somebody make a lunge at me, and I ran. I kept on running straight ahead until someone yelled "hey!" I looked and here was the ball coming straight at me. I didn't have a chance to duck so I threw up my hands. The darn thing stuck, and then someone shot a gun at me and all the players and the three officials chased me. I went down to the end of the field and circled the dormitory and headed for home. I had just finished packing my bag and nearly made my getaway when the rest of the team caught up to me. In no time they had me down on the bed and were pounding me and yelling. After a half hour or so of this I learned that I had caught a pass and run 75 yds. for a touchdown which won the game and that all six girls which survived the cold stood up and yelled my name.
The coach is awfully nice to me now and he's taken me to St. Cloud where we play today, and he says that I'm the fastest thing he ever laid eyes on.
Naturally, I'm awfully popular, especially with the girls. There is one real dyed-in-the-wool henna blonde who has been trying to get friendly with me but you know that I'm off of dames except you.
It's time for the game so must close.

Your own little GUS.

P.S.—They call me Ooky down here. Someone told me that it was 'cause I'm faster than Spark Plug.

THE CAMPUS RUNABOUT
To those who are trying to reduce but like to eat, too, we give you this good news (faculty members included). Mr. Nemzek has announced that overeating, by a process of overstimulation of the digestive organs, will reduce fat people. The "Coach" says that he much prefers this way of reducing and is at present using it. Don't tell him I said so but I don't think he's been very successful yet, do you?

A wail, a moan,
A laugh, a groan,
A shout, a sigh
And a lullabye!
It was only Mr. Preston's Principles of Music class taking turns singing for their weekly test. At least so I was told by several fair members of the class when they later emerged from the room with tear-stained faces.

Were you ever paid for knowing your lesson? Neither was I, but one of our college friends received a check from Mrs. Lockwood for $1.97 for being the only member of the Geography class who could answer a question. Of course, you understand this happened only in her dream.

Here it's four weeks since school started and it was only yesterday that I fully realized why it is so light around M. S. T. C. this year—why it's the large number of red-headed people we have in our midst!

Have you noticed that big bump on Mr. Bridges' head? Well, if you haven't, just look at it the next time you see him. It all happened like this:

He went to open the map case on the east wall of his room in history class the other day. He tried one side but it wouldn't work, so thinking that the janitor had hooked the other side he tried that. It wasn't hooked, however, and "crash" the whole thing fell right on the top of his head. It is interesting to note that the case was in no way dented or injured by the crash, although according to the victim "it was certainly thoroughly tested."

STUDENT LIBRARIANS HOLD SATURDAY CLASS

The new student assistants in the library spent the day last Saturday learning how to mend worn books and how to prepare new books for the shelves. Most of this mechanical work for the Library is done by the attendants in the reserve book room. By constant attention to torn pages and loose covers the books are kept in good condition.

MISS FLOSSIE FRESHMAN ATTENDS THE RECEPTION

I was delighted.
That P. M. after school I didn't count dandelion heads on the way home, but did forget and gave the car conductor a dime instead of seven cents. Mumbling something about "company policy" he put the dime in the slot and opened the door for me. (I saw three suckers dangling from his youngster's mouth later.)

Anyway—I reached home in time to give the family temporary paralysis by turning the tap on in the tub; and later by digging around in the ancestral vault for an appropriate dress.

The faculty men looked lovely in their bow ties and amazingly white shirts. As I passed along the reception line shaking the various hands and grinning politely, I stumbled gracefully over one of the Prof's outstretched feet. (Send self-addressed stamped envelope for name.) Strangely enough he seemed at a loss for words, so, to put him at his ease for being so careless about his foot, I assured him that there was "really no harm done." Still he looked grieved.

Just about this time someone gave me the high sign to come and grab some punch and cookies, and a pecan or so. I did this, and had a glorious time sitting on half a chair munching a ginger snap rhythmically in my neighbor's ear.

Mr. Kise (in Government)—Is the amending process too easy or too difficult?

Weltha Walters—No, it isn't.

A LITTLE GOSSIP

Mr. Archer (in the Exceptional Child)—What is your opinion about marking according to A. Q. (accomplishment Quotient?)

Gladys Karlstrom—It is probably the fairest way to mark but I wouldn't mark that way.

* * *

Mr. Hamrin—Why do you have a boy for make-up editor? Girls are better at that job?

Mr. Murray—Yes, but girls, while they don't object to a mudpack, don't like to use paste when they make-up.

The pair lock arms and wait for fifteen minutes for the next car.

THREE OF MAHTOMEDI FACULTY FROM M. S. T. C.

There are enough from the College to form an alumni club at Mahtomedi, Minn. Pearl Miller, Clementine (Patsy) Small, and Pearl Fisch, Gamma Nu's located in the schools at that place, might also form a sorority alumni chapter.

The MISTIC is in receipt of a letter from Pearl Miller in which she says that the group extends greetings to M. S. T. C. They plan to receive The MISTIC.

ORLEAN WIEK LOCATED AT RANGE TOWN SCHOOL

Claude Nemzek reports hearing from Orlean Wiek, who has charge of the 7th and 8th grades at Forbes, Minn. The Forbes school has four classrooms, with living quarters for the teaching staff on the second floor.

Forbes is 13 miles from Virginia and not so far from Cook, both of which towns are centers for alumni members. Mr. Wiek visited Alfred Tollefson recently and reports that the latter is superintendent of a fine school system.

OSCAR HAUGH PLANS TO SEE FOOTBALL GAMES

Oscar Haugh of Badger, who is teaching at Campbell, Minn., has been heard from. The president of the Student Council has informed us that Mr. Haugh is enthusiastic about football prospects at M. S. T. C., and is planning to be in Moorhead for games played here on Saturdays.

Mr. Haugh says that the Campbell schools are housed in an excellent building and that he has 23 pupils in the 7th and 8th grades.

SENTIMENT WITH WHICH THE MISTIC AGREES

If you have a bit of news

Send it in;

Or a joke that will amuse—

Send it in;

A story that is true

Or something that is new

We want to hear from you—

Send it in;

If it's only worth the while

Never mind the style

Send it in.

second half, however, opened the eyes of the doubting Thomases, and they have come to the conclusion that we have the makings of a real team.

Baldwin led the scoring with three touchdowns. Burton and Vinz counted two each, and Anderson and Zech garnered one each.

In the line it was very difficult to pick out stars, since the team as a group was far superior to its adversary. However, two of the Nemzek clan, Claude and Ted, performed creditably as guardians of the ends.

Reserves Perform.

In addition to the starting line-up, Vinz, Leland, and Gowenlock showed up to advantage.

Coach Nemzek states that the game was all that could be expected of his men at this stage of the season and declares himself satisfied with their showing.

For Park Region, Gordor was the luminary, and his injury was a severe blow to their hopes.

COLLEGE TRAINING

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

J. H. S.

In the study of civics, the eighth grade is preparing petri dishes in bacteria culture.

The industrial arts class, under the supervision of Miss Williams, have finished portfolios as their first project. The girls have now started making colored bags and the boys are interested in Gesso work.

The first meeting of the club was held last week. Frank Nemzek spoke on "Football."

Seven new girls entered the Minnetonka Campfire. They are studying the making of bead bands.

Intermediate.

The fifth and sixth grades are very proud of the aquarium which they converted into a plant conservatory. One of its main features is a baby turtle.

Genelle Donavon of the 6-A class fell out of a swing, hurting her arm. She is absent from school.

The upper intermediate grades have illustrated in pictures and now expect to make a frieze of the "Pied Piper of Hamelin."

The fourth grade history class is studying Indian color and design. They have designed Indian blankets, using the actual Indian symbols. They are experimenting with material used by Indians for dyes, such as sumach berries, wood-bine berries, milk weed, nut shells and bark. They are also making a frieze of easel painting depicting interesting phases of Indian life.

Primary.

The primary grades are making a new venture into the field of Journalism. The first grades' "Weekly News" is published every Friday while the second grades' "Weekly Record" appears every Monday. Besides reporting for the paper, they are assisting in the printing as well.

Martin Cohen entered the second grade.

A record of the arithmetic tests of the 2-A class is kept in an Aeroplane graph. Two children have already reached the highest point of altitude.

The primary grades are very interested in the museum they have started. At the present time, it contains interesting things such as caterpillars, large cones, shells, and pictures.

THE GLYNDON CORNER

Effie Knutson, Marie Turpin, Violet Garden, Margaret Hvidsten, Marguerite Erickson, Leone Saatoff, Lillian Stevenson, Idell Malm, Octavia Askegaard, Edelweiss Eddy—we are at Glyndon. Watch our column. We have assumed all the dignities of real teachers and have been hard at work for four weeks. We have some time to play too.

The Glyndon faculty and student teachers had a picnic at Buffalo Creek, Thursday evening, September 15, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Al Berghren. Everyone had a good time and plenty to eat.

The members of the regular teaching corps at Glyndon are: Mr. Dewey, superintendent; Miss Ide, grade supervisor; Miss Palmer, principal; Miss Sedam, science; Miss Fredrickson, home economics; Mr. Young, manual training and agriculture; Miss Melin, assistant upper grade supervisor; Miss Grimsrud, assistant intermediate supervisor; Miss Lindquist, assistant primary supervisor.

The P. T. A. had its first meeting for the year Tuesday evening, September 13. After the business meeting, we all gathered in the gymnasium where all the fathers and mothers became children again and Miss Lindquist taught us primary games.

Part of the Glyndon faculty joined the M. S. T. C. faculty in surprising President and Mrs. MacLean at their cottage on Lake Pelican, Saturday, September 17.

Miss Lindquist was hostess to the Glyndon faculty Sunday, September 10, at her cottage at Balmoral, Ottertail Lake.

On Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of last week the grades from fourth to eighth were subjected to a series of tests.

Our thoughtful school board, with some assistance from the P. T. A., has purchased a "pocket edition" piano to be used in the grade rooms and gymnasium. The whole school gathered in the lower hall Thursday morning to initiate this Miessner piano. Superintendent Dewey, presented the piano to the school. Benjie Bakken, representing the grades, and Daisy Johnson, representing the high school, acknowledged the gift. The whole school joined in songs.

The Glyndon training school faculty, en masse, attended the faculty reception to the student body at the M. S. T. C. dormitories Friday evening.
