Northwest Central Division Meeting of M. E. A. Brings Many Alumni and Visitors to College Campus for the Week-end

HOME-COMING FOR ALUMNI TOMORROW

FOOTBALL GAME IN AFTERNOON; HOME-COMING DINNER AND DANCE IN EVENING

Many alumni will be here for the annual Home-coming for all former students of the State Teachers College that will be held tomorrow.

The Ped football squad will play the Wildcats from Wahpeton Science School at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Wahpeton has a very strong line-up this year, and a very good game should be looked forward to.

Dinner at Comstock Hall.

The annual Home-coming dinner will be served at Comstock Hall dining room at 6 o'clock tomorrow evening. At this dinner the Sophomore class will be guests of the alumni.

An alumni flight will feature the program at the dinner. Mrs. O. J. Hagen acts as pilot, with Mr. C. A. Ballard, the master mechanic, assisting the plane in its take-off. The Rice Motors have a pleasant purr as the plane is taken to a high altitude from which Mrs. Herdeg takes a daring parachute drop. Miss Gudrun Lokensgaard and Miss Gudrun Grimrud each take the plane through several stunts which are followed by a tail spin of the plane by Jimmie Preston. Mr. Preston will bring the plane to the port again with purring motors to be welcomed home by President MacLean.

Party in Gymnasium.

Following the dinner there will be a Home-coming dance in the gymnasium. The entire student body will be guests of the alumni at this dance.

A student-alumni orchestra will furnish music for the dance.

SCHOOLMASTERS TO MEET TONIGHT

At 6 o'clock this evening the members of the Schoolmasters Study Club will meet in Weld Hall. The program which will follow the dinner is featured by the presence of Mr. E. M. Phillips, of the state department of education. Reservations have been made for fifty.

The Schoolmasters Study Club is an organization of the schoolmen in the Northwest Central Association of the M. E. A. During the three years of its existence, Mr. Archer has been president for two years and Mr. MacLean has been president for one year. Mr. Hamrin is at present secretary of the organization. The organization meets monthly for the purpose of fostering intelligent interest in current problems in education and for stimulating a professional interest in the school in this territory.

MUNICIPALITIES HEAD TO SPEAK

Dr. Richard R. Price, who will speak at the M. E. A. divisional meeting here, is in charge of Extension work at the University of Minnesota. Dr. Price attended the University of Kansas in 1897. He then went to Harvard University, where he received his B. A. in 1899. In 1901, he received his M. A. at Harvard. In 1923, he returned to receive the degree of Ed. D.

Former Kansas Educator.

Dr. Price started his educational career as a teacher in the high school at Hutchinson, Kans. Later he was appointed superintendent in the same system. He was next director of Extension work at the University of Kansas. At one time he was head of the Kansas textbook commission and is now in charge of the League of Minnesota Municipalities.

Is Civic Leader.

Dr. Price is a very fluent and interesting talker. He is active in civic affairs as well as educational matters. President MacLean, a personal friend of Dr. Price, states that the latter is very fond of outdoor life and every summer spends a portion of his time at the lakes near Moorhead.

NOTICE TO ALUMNI

Clip out the coupon on page 6 of this issue of The MISTIC if you expect to attend the Alumni Reunion at Minneapolis, November 11.

COLLEGE CAFETERIA IS OPENED FOR STUDENTS

The College Cafeteria, maintained for the comfort and convenience of students, opened Monday with about thirty-five students signed up, while more are expected when it becomes better known.

The lunch is prepared in the home economics kitchen by Miss Selma Pehrson and her helper.

Each student stands in line with a tray, necessary silverware and a plate, and from the long tables selects his lunch. The menu for Monday was: cream of tomato soup, meat balls, mashed potatoes, crabapple sauce, bread and butter, pear salad, cocoa, milk, and tea.

After paying the cashier at the door, the students and faculty take their trays to the pleasant, sunny sewing-room, where they may sit at tables with their friends. The advantage of a hot, nutritious noon lunch cannot be overestimated, and no doubt "Sally's" cooking will enlist more and more patrons as the chilly, wintry days come on.

POWELL IS NOTED AUTHOR-LECTURER

Dr. John Walker Powell is to speak twice during the district meeting of the M. E. A. On Friday, October 7, during the general session beginning at 8:00 P. M., he will talk on the subject, "Bread and Lilies." The following day, Saturday, October 8, he is scheduled as the last speaker, and will lecture on "Poetry as Interpretation of Ideals."

Dr. Powell is an alumnus of the University of Minnesota, class of 1893. He was for many years pastor in Duluth. From 1912 to 1914, he served as Director of Religious Work in the University Y. M. C. A., from which he resigned to accept a call to Lowry Hill Congregational Church of Minneapolis.

Awarded French Medal.

In 1918 he gave up his pulpit to go to France with the A. E. F., where his distinguished service with the Educational Corps as representative of the Commission on the General Staff, won for him the medal of the Palmes Academiques from the French Government.

Since the war he has been associated with the Extension Division of the University of Wisconsin as administrative officer and special lecturer in English literature. The classes in his lecture courses proved so popular in 1925 that he was obliged to give up administrative work and devote all his time to teaching and lecturing.

Is Author Also.

Dr. Powell is the author of three books: "The Poet's Vision of Man," "The Confession of a Browning Lover," and "What is a Christian?"

EXTENSION ENROLLMENT TOTAL BROUGHT TO 59

Enrollment has reached fifty-nine in the four extension courses being offered by the History and Education departments of the college this fall. Six are enrolled in Mr. Christensen's class in Tests and Measurements, twenty in English History by Mr. Bridges, fifteen in Social and Economic History of the U. S., given at Detroit Lakes on Saturday by Mr. Kise, and eighteen in a class in Child Psychology, offered at Barnesville on Thursday, by Mr. Archer.

Mrs. R. G. Price is also offering a course in English Composition at St. John's hospital in Fargo, on Saturdays.

These classes will all meet once a week. It is hoped that this plan can be made a permanent institution in the way of extension work.

If you hear a terrible sound that quite resembles an Indian war whoop, don't be worried—it's only the physical education classes learning some Indian dances or playing some Hal-lowe'en games.

WILDCATS PLAY PEDS TOMORROW

PEDS ARE CONFIDENT AFTER HEAVY WORKOUT; WILDCATS HAVE STRONG TEAM

The Peds, smarting under the defeat handed them by St. Cloud, are preparing themselves for the Wildcat invasion which will take place at 2:30 P. M. tomorrow on Memorial Field. The chastened Peds are not prophesying victory but they are far from admitting any possibility of defeat. It seems that practice this week under the direction of Coach Nemzek has been such as to fill every man with the idea that defeat is out of the question.

Wahpeton Is Strong.

However, Wahpeton also has something to say about this matter and undoubtedly there will be a conflict of opinion when the teams line up for the opening whistle. Wahpeton is represented by a strong team, a team which outplayed the strong Valley City eleven and then lost the game 7-0 through a fluke. Such men as Achter and Johnson are not to be ignored.

Three Peds Nursing Injuries.

The Peds have been having trouble of their own. Ted Nemzek, giant end, has one toe which will not behave. Ted cannot wear his 10½ football shoes and no one else seems able to fill them satisfactorily. Zech, the champion hard luck player, is perpetually hampered by injuries. Vinz has a badly twisted knee, and several other boys are nursing minor injuries. In spite of these difficulties Coach Nemzek ran his charges through a week of intensive blocking and tackling drill interspersed by a jaunt over to the North Dakota A. C. on Tuesday, where a scrimmage was held with the Yellow and Green Bison.

In view of the fact that the game looks like a thriller and that Homecoming is taking place on the campus, it is expected that the S. R. O. sign will be hung out early.

OFFICERS CHOSEN BY JUNIOR-SENIOR GROUP

The Junior-Senior Class was organized last Friday, September 29. The following were elected officers of the organization: Harold Sand, president; Vivian Mero, vice-president; Rosella Lyttleton, secretary, and Mrs. York, treasurer. Mr. Archer and Miss Gibbon were chosen as faculty advisors.

BANK HAS DRAWING OF COLLEGE ON DISPLAY

A drawing of the main building of the College as well as one of Concordia College has been on display in the window of the American State Bank of Moorhead. It is quite a realistic picture of both colleges.

A card in the window states that the two colleges are two of Moorhead's greatest assets.

ALUMNI PLAN FOR BIG REUNION AT STATE MEET

An M. S. T. C. Get-together will be held during the State M. E. A. Convention at 5 o'clock Friday evening, November 11, 1927, in the Sun Room of the Curtis Hotel in Minneapolis.

Reservations, with a check for one dollar, should be sent to Mrs. Dean W. Meeker, 5028 Vincent Ave. So., Minneapolis.

"A Pictorial History of the M. S. T. C." will be the feature number of the evening, with Mr. Ballaru as the principal speaker.

President MacLean and several other members of the faculty have signified their intentions of attending the reunion. Mr. Frank A. Weld, former president of this college, is also planning to attend.

STUDENT COUNCIL MAKES FALL TERM CALENDAR

The first meeting of the Student Council was held on Thursday, September 29, at which time the social calendar for the fall term was made out, each organization choosing the date for its term party.

Regular meetings of the Student Council will be held every two weeks on Friday at 3:15.

Mr. Preston (in music): "If you are cold just fill up your lungs with air and keep it there. I think that's the way Socrates kept warm—he was full of hot air all the time."

EDITOR RESEARCH JOURNAL IS HERE

Dr. B. R. Buckingham, head of the Ohio State University Bureau of Research, is to speak several times at the 1927 M. E. A. to be held in Moorhead on October 6, 7, and 8. His talks are to include "The Making of Objective Tests," "Teaching How to Solve Verbal Problems," "Algebra in the High School," and "Error and Failure, Their Educational Meaning."

Has Many Degrees.

Dr. Buckingham received his B. A. at Wesleyan University in Connecticut, in 1899; his M. A. in 1900, and his Ph. D. at State Normal College of Albany, N. Y., in 1901. Columbia University awarded the Ph. D. degree in 1913.

In 1901, Dr. Buckingham started his career as a teacher, accepting the principalship of the public schools in Northport, N. Y. From this position his record has been one of steady advancement through various types of educational work until now he is director of the Ohio State University Bureau of Research.

Is Editor and Author.

He is editor of the Journal of Educational Research, nationally known magazine.

Dr. Buckingham is a member of many educational and research associations, including Phi Delta Kappa, national education fraternity.

MOORHEAD HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM ALSO TO BE USED FOR SESSIONS

Moorhead State Teachers College and Moorhead High School are hosts to educators who are here for the twentieth annual meeting of the Northwest Central Minnesota Education Association.

The program scheduled for the general session last evening at the College included a musical program by the Pontiac Male Quartet. This quartet consists of a group of soloists from Moorhead.

Dr. Price Speaks.

The feature of the evening's program was a lecture entitled "The Power of Personality," by Dr. Richard Price, from the University of Minnesota. Dr. Price is at present head of the Extension Division at the University of Minnesota and is head of the League of Minnesota Municipalities.

This morning the program of the general session includes a musical program by the Duo Art Club of the Moorhead High School, a chorus of girls directed by Miss Margaret Newton. They will sing Graff's "Butterflies" and "To Spring," by Grieg.

Miss Ayers to Talk.

Miss Adelaide Ayers speaks on "Starting an Activity Curriculum." Miss Ayers is head of the training school at the Milwaukee Normal School and has conducted some interesting work in the use of activities.

Dr. Price speaks at this session on "Living and Learning."

Research Educator Here.

"The Making of Objective Tests," is the title of an address by Dr. B. R. Buckingham. Dr. Buckingham is head of the Ohio State Bureau of Research. He has become well known through the Buckingham tests and as a co-author of the new Buckingham-Osborn Arithmetics. These texts have been attracting attention because of their application of modern pedagogy and child psychology.

Two Divisions in Afternoon.

This afternoon there will be two different meetings. At the auditorium of the Moorhead High School there will be a meeting of high school teachers. A meeting of elementary and rural teachers will be held at the auditorium of the State Teachers College.

S. G. Reinertsen, Superintendent of the Moorhead city schools, will act as leader of the meeting at the high school auditorium.

Phillips at H. S. Session.

At this meeting E. M. Phillips, state high school inspector, will speak on "Commercial Education in the Public School."

Miss Pearl Dinan is to speak on "Core Learning in High School English." Miss Dinan is a member of the North Dakota Agricultural College at Fargo and has recently been appointed Dean of Women there.

"Algebra in the High School," is the title of a speech to be given by Dr. Buckingham at this meeting.

Elementary Section Here.

At the meeting of elementary and rural teachers at the State Teachers College auditorium, S. Gilbertson, Superintendent of Schools at Breckenridge, will act as leader.

At this meeting Dr. Buckingham is to speak on "Teaching How to Solve Verbal Problems." Miss Ayers will speak on "Creative Activities in the Elementary Grades."

Demonstration to Be Given.

Miss Blanche Loudon, Principal of the Intermediate department of the training school at the Teachers College here, will speak on "Activities in the Intermediate Grades." Her speech will be supplemented by a demonstration, supervised by Miss Maland and Miss Carlson, of activities carried on by pupils in the Intermediate department of the training school. Miss Loudon has done some original work in the training school of the college.

H. S. Athletic Meeting.

A meeting of the Second District High School Athletics Committee will be held this afternoon (Friday) at 5 o'clock in the State Teachers College auditorium.

Following the athletics meeting a dinner will be served for the mem-

WELCOME, TEACHERS

This issue of The MISTIC would not be complete without a word of hearty welcome to the teachers of northwest central Minnesota, who are here for the divisional M. E. A.

Whether you are an alumnus of this institution or not we want you to feel that the College has been looking forward to your annual visit with pleasure.

We extend to our visitors an invitation to visit the various buildings and see the work that is being done here; we invite you to make use of the College Cafeteria in Weld Hall; and we hope that you will derive pleasure and inspiration out of the sessions which the Northwest Central Committee has planned for you, as well as from the activities of Saturday planned by the College.

PSYCHOLOGY'S IDEAL STILL IN THE FUTURE

(Minneapolis Journal, October 2, 1927)

Dr. E. L. Thorndike, of the Teachers College of Columbia University, has recently outlined a few of the advances made in the science of psychology, perhaps within the last twenty years, since the decease of the generation of teachers represented by James, Galton, and Wundt.

One of the most interesting of the discoveries has been along the line of "the location of faculty" in the brain. In the old days, we had become quite certain that every faculty had its exact location in the cortex, and no other; that, once its location was destroyed, the faculty must cease functioning. This belief has been somewhat modified by the investigations of Lashley. This psychologist uses the technique of extirpating parts of the brains of animals of known history who have learned certain things, and whose lives and learning, after the extirpation, may be compared with the lives and learning before the operations. Lashley seems to have shown that the work, ordinarily done by one part of the brain, is often readily taken over by another part, if the first part is destroyed.

Yerkes' book, "Almost Human," is an interesting study of the animal mind. He finds that the average human being passes the adult chimpanzee level of intellect soon after he is a year old. So far, all attempts to teach the chimpanzee to talk have been practically complete failures. The chasm between the adult human mind and the adult chimpanzee mind is still as Huxley saw it in his famous comparison. Yet the chimpanzee gives evidence of having and of using ideas. He is, perhaps, the highest animal, more intellectual than the gorilla, and so nearer to man. But no animal mind "talks" or "thinks," in the technical sense. How the bridge was ever thrown across this chasm, if it ever was bridged, remains still a great mystery. The difference between man and animal is profound.

Musical ability is found to be one of the first human abilities to manifest itself. Seashore has analyzed musical capacity in man and has devised tests whereby its fundamental components can be measured and with considerable precision. Such tests will reveal deficiencies by which enormous present wastes of time and money in musical training of persons doomed to musical failure, may be prevented.

The great majority of human abilities do not manifest their presence or absence in so definite a way or at so early an age. But the problems in such cases have been attacked and substantial results have been attained in the cases of aviators, salesmen, stenographers, teachers, and taxicab drivers. Such occupations may obtain more than a good guess as to the abilities of beginners in their lines of work.

Dr. Thorndike confesses that the ideal of a scientific psychology, which is a fundamental science of human nature, on which education, economics, government and religion may rely as safely as engineering relies upon physics, has not been attained. But year and year shows progress. If ever this progress reaches its ultimate, then we shall have attained Socrates' ideal, "Know thyself."

PRESIDENT COFFMAN QUIZZES FRESHMEN

Dr. L. D. Coffman, President of the University of Minnesota, asked five vital questions of freshman convocation this year.

"First, are you man enough to get up promptly every morning, go to meals on time, reach your classes on time, and go to bed at a regular hour, without supervision or a reminder of any sort?"

"Second, are you able to carry loose change in your pockets without spending it? Can you budget your money, meet your bills, and hold up your heads without sponging off your fellow students?"

"Third, have you the strength of will and character to choose as companions those whom you would like to have as life-long friends, and to shun the unworthy?"

"Fourth, have you the will-power to go off by yourselves every day and study your lessons until you know them without having anyone tell you to get to work?"

"And fifth, have you the manhood, when another fellow's answer is within reach, to fail on an examination rather than obtain unlawful aid?"

These five questions touch the fundamental points of character that are vital to every man and woman. The ability to meet these tests indicate the capacity of a person to stand on his own feet, do his own work capably, and to be a man.

of preparation before reaching college, lack of industry and application after arrival, or to certain character defects, such as shirking, laziness, indifference to duty, lack of the necessary character to carry out promises, or failure to do as parents wish and have instructed them to do.

THE OPEN COLUMN

WHAT OF NEXT WEEK?

A purpose of the mid-term examinations that will be held next week is to test how the students have adapted themselves to the first half of this quarter.

Students are expected to take advantage of the material which the instructors have given them or shown them where to get it. The instructors give these mid-term examinations to determine where the weak spots may be strengthened.

In order to determine the relative need of re-enforcement of the weak places, the instructors must have cooperation on the part of the students. While testing the efficiency of a machine, the engineer must test for the durability and workability of the various parts of that machine. To obtain a true test every part of that machine must work under normal conditions. If a temporary re-enforcement has been put into a part of the machine, a true test has not been made.

Some students may want to "get by" the instructors in a class so as to be members of groups taking part in extra-curricular activities. To take part in these various activities requires a certain scholarship standard.

Is the standard for activity participation worthy of attainment unless it can be achieved by fair means?

GUS AND DAD

Moorhead, Minn.,
Oct. 4, 1927.

Dear Dad:

Just a few lines to let you know that I am getting along O.K., even tho I am behind in this letter writing business. However, I borrowed an envelope and a stamp from my roommate so it ain't costing me anything this time.

I spose you heard all about my being a hero in the first football game and how I was classified as the find of the season. Well, in spite of all this I've thrown up my chances for fame and quit football. Here's how it happened. We were playing St. Cloud when the coach put me in in the third quarter. The score was 0-0 and the coach said that with my speed I should win the game. I just barely broadcasted the fact that I was in there when someone shot a gun and I heard the captain say, "that's the quarter." Then the referee penalized us by taking the ball darn near the length of the field so that it was as near our goal line as it had been near St. Cloud's. The referee blew his whistle and then the teams lined up and here's what was funny! They lined up on the wrong side of the ball! I noticed it, but I was too smart to say anything. The 2-bit back called my signal. I got the ball and started for St. Cloud's goal line. Instantly the crowd went into an uproar, realizing of course that know one could stop me from making a touchdown. When I went by the coach he reached out to pat me on the back but he darn near tripped me. I was just ready to cross the goal line when someone hit me and I dropped the ball. When I came too the coach and all the guys were taking turns hitting me and kicking me. Here's what seemed to have happened: the referee changed goals without telling me and I ran the wrong way; Baldy tackled me; I fumbled; the ball rolled across the goal line; a St. Cloud man fell on it and scored a touchdown, winning the game. The coach asked me for my suit, so I quit.

That is the true story of how St. Cloud beat M. S. T. C. 7-0, and how I happened to resign from the football team. How was I to know that they had swapped goals and why did they do it in the first place? I was going to come home but after I learned that the story hadn't leaked out in Moorhead, I decided to show them the kind of stuff I was made of and stayed.

Well, I must close, as I have a date with a sorority girl and I don't dare be late.

YOUR SON,

"GUS."

P. S.—I could use $10 if you happened to enclose it in your next letter.

P. P. S.—Write soon.

Podunk Siding, Minn.,
Oct. 5, 1927.

Dear Son:

Your letter received and contents noted. Must say that I never thought a son of mine could be so stupid.

DAD.

P. S.—I didn't see your postscript.

THE CAMPUS RUNABOUT

Did you know that teachers have a special type of countenance? Well, they have. At least Miss Frick thus instructed the students in her physical education classes last week, "Aw, come on, get that teacher look off your face. Some of you get that look before you ever get a job. You better get rid of it 'cause you may not get a job.

"If there's anything that does me a world of good is to see these sophisticated, would-be-dignified student teachers let go of their dignity for a while. Why, yesterday I felt so good after I watched Myrtle Nelson trying (time after time unsuccessfully) to kick that football into the air."

What do you suppose? The other morning Valborg Runsvold was walking unconcernedly down the street when all of a sudden, just as she crossed the railroad track, her shoe caught in the rail. Now, Valborg was so thoughtfully engaged in solving the problem of completing a certain lesson plan that she didn't even realize what had happened—not even after she had taken a few steps and her stockinged foot struck the cold rail. At this moment a nearby workman yelled, "Say, girl, you lost something." With an "I'll say I did," Valborg, very much embarrassed, hastily put on her shoe and wished herself far from the spot.

Victor Fridlund tells me that you don't have to study history to come in contact with historical things. He says he meets his "Waterloo" every day in Principles of Music.

The rendition of that favorite melody, "Old Black Joe," marked the first performance of the M. S. T. C. Mouth-Organ Band at the meeting Monday afternoon.

Approximately seventy-five students were present with their mouth-organs (harmonicas) on this occasion, the first rehearsal of the group. It is planned to make this a permanent organization which will be used in connection with pep rallies, chapel programs, basketball games, and similar school activities.

Although there was apparently much discord at first, the prospects for the success and popularity of the band are fairly good. "At least we'll have a lot of fun out of it, if nothing else," says Mr. Preston, the instigator and director.

COLLEGE TRAINING SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

The first and second grades are keeping a record of the weather reports which they make.

Following out the suggestions of the children, the kindergarten is planning a circus. The children are making costumes in industrial arts class and practicing the parade of the animals in their rhythm class.

Sybil Cohen was admitted to the fourth grade Monday morning.

The members of the intermediate grade club each gave a talk on "An Interesting Vacation Experience," last Friday morning. Jennie Stusiak and Howard Amundsgaard were voted the best story tellers in the third and fourth grades. Ruth Sattre and Norman Nelson received the highest votes in the fifth and sixth grades.

M.S.T.C. Gridiron Warriors Who Will Be Seen in Action Saturday in the Home-coming Game with Wahpeton

Left to right: Hjalmer Erickson, Moorhead, tackle; Vic Anderson, Moorhead, quarterback; Claude Nemzek, Moorhead, end. This is the Moorhead High alumni aggregation. Erickson was last year's Ped captain; Claude, last of the Nemzek clan, holds down either end or a position in the backfield capably; and Anderson's specialty is reversing the field and pivoting, besides calling signals.

Left to right: George Edwards, Moorhead, halfback and quarterback; Albert Zech, Detroit Lakes, fullback; Wilson Burton, Wheaton, halfback. Here are the rest of the speedy Ped backfield. Although the backfield is lighter than usual, it is a brainy and fast group which boasts at least three men who can fill the quarterback position acceptably; men who can hit the line hard; and fast traveling end-runners.

COLLEGE Y.W.C.A. ROOM BEING REFURNISHED

The Y. W. C. A. room is undergoing a marked improvement. A new rug has been purchased, and new curtains are being made. The committee in charge for fixing up the Y. W. room consists of the following people: Lydia Schwandt, Chairman, Anna Kuehn, Alma Baumgarten, and Marie Espeland.

COLLEGE TRAINING SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

J. H. S.

The student body is invited to attend the exhibit in the Junior High School assembly during the M. E. A. Commercial and professional books will be on exhibit.

The 7-B class is drawing to scale the campus. A working committee took actual measurements of the grounds. This class is also drawing to scale maps of South America and Asia which will later be used as a basis for product maps.

Intermediate.

The fourth grade, in the study of Indians, has made birch bark canoes and cradles.

The third and fourth grades are interestedly watching the growth of the bulbs in their room.

The fourth graders are to write original stories from pictures for their next club meeting.

The intermediate grades have begun to attend religious instruction every Monday at 3 o'clock.

The intermediate grades were glad to welcome two new pupils this week: Doris Miller from Eau Claire, Wis., and Harold Kahn from Orisca, Minn.

Primary.

The second grade is ready to paint the second assignment of chairs for the first grade.

The first graders have made new number books.

Eunice Harris celebrated her sixth birthday at school. Each child received a gift. Cake and animal cookies were served.

Miss Christenson, of the primary department, accompanied by Miss Pennie, spent the week-end at her home in Henning, Minn.

Edna Graham moved to Fargo last week. She is attending the Hawthorne school.

The second graders brought a little bird into the room to warm it a few days ago. They were very much interested in observing the bird.

The second grade elected leaders to help them keep the lines straight as they pass up and down the stairs.

DRAMATIC CLUB TAKES IN SIX NEW MEMBERS

The Dramatic Club held its first regular meeting last Wednesday afternoon. Ralph Smith, president of the club, presided. The following new members were admitted to the club: Wilson Burton, Elroy Johnson, Dora Grugal, Beatrice Shelland, Geneva Christenson, and Jean Howie.

Miss Tainter gave a talk to the club in which she briefly outlined the year's work. Rosella Lyttleton was appointed reporter to The MISTIC.

MISS FLOSSIE FRESHMAN HAS A MISERABLE TIME

Terrible life—this college. In the first place the car was late—horribly late; and the conductor, to cheer me up, said that it was liable to be later still. I thanked him profusely.

The class was having a miserable time without me when I happened along. The Prof. looked at me sweetly but significantly. I thought the "Unusual Child" had nothing on me when one of my test papers came back marked "E." The girl to my right spent an enjoyable minute telling me she had quite a bit on me—after all.

And now—I've lost the 55c that I spirited away from my mother with which to buy a mouth organ. So—I guess my latent musical talent will remain just that—latent.

Still—I have the afternoon to live through yet.

TEN NEW MEMBERS ARE TAKEN INTO ART CLUB

The Art Club met Wednesday, September 28, in the Drawing Rooms. A short business meeting was held, at which time the following new members were voted into the club: Della Shackleford, Thelma Maland, Clara Mathieson, Alice Mullen, Inga Lund, Myrtle Sanders, Mrs. Stoa, Anna Kuehn, Margaret Walz, and Clara Malvey. Refreshments were served by Miss McCarten.

MISS CREW IS CHOSEN GAMMA NU DIRECTRESS

Miss Mary Crew of the English department is the new directress for the Gamma Nu sorority. She is a member of the Gamma Delta, national sorority.

MISTICISMS

Miss Gladys Nissen spent the week-end at her home in Mahanomen.

Mary Hanson, Ida Haagenon, Cora Barstad, and Esther Olson spent Saturday afternoon visiting relatives and friends in Barnesville.

Miss Emma Turnblad spent the week-end at her home in Detroit Lakes.

Miss Nina Carlson spent the week-end at her home in Staples.

Miss Evelyn Blaha spent the week-end at her home in Wadena.

Miss Ella Johnson spent Saturday at her home in Lake Park.

The Alumni Corner

During this year The MISTIC plans to set aside this section of the paper for the alumni. Ole R. Sande has been named alumni representative at the College, and news of alumni should be sent in to him or to The MISTIC direct. Those members of the alumni who are too modest to write in about themselves are asked to tell us about what other M. S. T. C. people are doing out in the field. Help us to make this section of the paper worth while. Watch this corner for announcements of the officers of the association. PEDS DROP GAME WITH SAINTS, 7-0

ST. CLOUD TEACHERS SCORE ON PASS; PEDS ROLL UP YARD-
AGE, FAIL TO SCORE

Last Thursday the Peds journeyed to St. Cloud only to suffer their first setback of the season at the hands of the Teachers College Saints of that place, to the tune of 7-0, on Friday, September 30. The game was played upon a new field and the gridiron was wet and soggy, impeding progress greatly.

St. Cloud scored on a pass, Koch to Stensrud, in the early part of the second quarter, but as the game progressed, it became more and more difficult to believe that the score was not favorable to the visitors.

Peds Near Three Times.

Three times the Peds were in a position to score but each time St. Cloud stiffened enough to subdue the attack. The Crimson's attack was superior to that of their opponents, but the Peds were unable to make the yardage count.

The backfield did not get started quickly enough, and the line was not charging. There you have the whole story.

The game was bitterly fought at all times, although numerous penalties deterred from the interest at times.

Anderson's Pass Wild.

In the first quarter the Crimson-clads had an excellent chance to score when they had the ball on the enemy's 10-yard line. However, Anderson's pass was wild on the next play.

The second quarter was barely started when Koch tossed a short pass to Stensrud, who ran 30 yards for a St. Cloud tally. Kamrowski kicked goal. The Peds realized suddenly that they were on the tail end of the count and began to hiven matters up for the rest of the period. They took the ball towards the St. Cloud goal but simply could not score.

During the remainder of the first half they attempted to account for the game, but they realized that a lack of teamwork was responsible for their situation.

Peds Improve Second Half.

The second half was practically all Moorhead. The Peds paraded down the field only to lose the ball on downs and have St. Cloud punt. Then they'd start over again.

In the third quarter, matters began to brighten for the Peds when after a series of passes they found themselves on their lighter opponents' 5-yard line. Here the Saints strengthened for three downs, and the pass, Edwards to Gowenlock, who earlier in the game made a good catch, was knocked down. St. Cloud punted, as usual, to Anderson.

Again the Peds started a march to the coveted goal line, only to have a pass intercepted. The game ended with the ball in the Peds' possession on the St. Cloud 35-yard line.

Koch Is Saint Star.

Koch, 130-pound halfback, was the St. Cloud luminary. Ted Nemzek, Zech, Vinz, and Anderson were handicapped by injuries of a varied nature.

The Summary.

Moorhead	St. Cloud
T. Nemzek	LE	Smidt
Erickson	LT	Bush
Simson	LG	Kutzman
Lowry	C	Girard
Townsend	RG	Borham

NORTHWEST CENTRAL MEETING IN PROGRESS

bers of the Schoolmasters Study Club and their friends at the State Teachers College in the Domestic Science rooms in Weld Hall.

At M. H. S. This Evening.

The general session this evening will be held at the auditorium of the Moorhead High School.

The musical program of this session is to be given by the Moorhead Ladies' Sextette under the direction of Jesse Hazelton Askegaard. This program will consist of Humoresque "Swanee River," Dvorak-Wilson; "Ise Gwine Back to Dixie," White; "Where Dawn and Sunset Meet," Lieurance, (violin obligato by Mrs. Daniel Preston); "I Passed Your Window," Brake-Lucas; and "Chit-Chat," Moffat, rendered by the Moorhead Ladies' Sextette. This sextette has become very favorably known to many. They have given various concerts in nearby cities and during the last summer they gave several chautauqua concerts.

Talk by Powell.

The feature lecture of the evening, entitled, "Bread and Lilies," will be given by Dr. John Walker Powell, Lecturer in English Literature at the University of Minnesota.

Saturday morning the general session will commence at 9 o'clock and will be held at the auditorium of the State Teachers College.

Preston to Sing.

Mr. Daniel Preston, head of the music department of the College, will sing a group of tenor solos: He will sing: "Life," Curvan; "A Memory," Ganz; "Leetle Bateese," O'Hara.

At this session Dr. Buckingham speaks on "Error and Failure, Their Educational Meaning."

Miss Marguerite Breen, Publicity Director of the Minnesota Public Health Association, will speak on "Health in the Public Schools."

"Poetry as Interpretation of Ideals," is the title of the address that will be given by Dr. Powell at this meeting.

GEORGE BOWERS IS GARFIELD PRINCIPAL

George Bowers, of the 1927 class, is principal of the Garfield School. In a recent letter, Mr. Bowers expressed his enthusiasm for a successful season for the Ped gridiron.

This special edition of The MISTIC, making possible the printing of the football pictures, has been largely made possible by the work of Harold Preusse, and Ruby and Ruth Smith.

Mr. W. C. White, staff photographer for The MISTIC, took the pictures.

NOW YOU CAN TELL WHO THE PED PLAYERS ARE

At the Park Region game a girl was heard to exclaim, "I might get a kick out of this game if I could tell one player from another." For the benefit of fans of the fair sex and others we are printing the numbers of the Ped players. The MISTIC regrets that it is unable to do as much for the Wahpeton players.

SOPHOMORES CAREFULLY SELECT RINGS AND PINS

In selecting pins and rings for the class of '28 a new and wise plan was followed this year. Instead of a long drawn out process of inspecting the wares of numerous agents whenever they come around, someone brilliantly advised that all the agents come at one time when the committee could make a careful selection, free to compare different styles and prices. This plan was followed.

The style they chose gives a definite answer to the plan. The pins with the tiny book-guard on which the number '28 is inscribed are distinctly good-looking. The men's and girls' rings are slightly different, the former having "19" on one side and "28" on the other, while the latter has daintily built up filigree with "2" on one side of the ring and "8" on the other.

VALLEY CITY VIKINGS DEFEAT THE WILDCATS

The Valley City Teachers won from the Wahpeton Science School on the latter's field last Saturday by a score of 6-0. The Wahpeton Wildcats outplayed the Valley City Vikings the first half, but weakened in the last quarter just long enough to let Valley City put over the lone score of the game.

TWO MUSICIANS FEATURE CHAPELS

Walter Grimm, the music instructor at the Winona State Teachers College spoke at the chapel assembly Wednesday morning.

He gave us a few pointers on how to get the most enjoyment out of our college life. We all expect a certain amount of pep, social life and popularity on the campus. If a person is to receive these, he must first give them to others.

After all, our struggles here are like those at home, and if we go into the problem with a will, we can overcome almost any obstacle.

Miss Nesheim Plays.

Miss Eleanor Nesheim, Moorhead pianist and composer, favored the students and faculty with a piano recital during the chapel period last Friday. She played:

- Humming Bird.....Niemann
- C Sharp Minor Polonaise.....Chopin
- Prelude in A.....Debussy

Miss Nesheim has studied music during the last few years in Chicago and California. She has composed several selections for the piano.
