Contributor's Report

There are foundations larger than Moorhead State University's. There are few better or more loyal. We believe you well understand the purpose of the foundation: To offer private support for the numerous students in need of scholarships, to fund projects for the improvement of instruction, and, in brief, to give the added excellence that state funds cannot provide.

So we present this Contributor's Report partially as a record of accomplishment, not so much the accomplishment of the Foundation but of yourselves as you have generously contributed to our continuing programs, our initial annual fund drive and our phonathon.

We have tried, in this report, to present some primary facts you should know. The various vehicles through which you may give, ranging from the Centennial Medallion through the Dragon Century Clubs are important to know. Also you should know about the leaders of our two organizations, the MSU Foundation and the Alumni Association, and the boards that guide these two organizations. Then, too, the words of those who give and those who receive are good motivation, especially the gratitude of scholarship recipients. The list of contributors is an important one. It catalogues all of you who have generously given. Finally, we include a financial statement in order that you can know from where our funds come and where they go and that expenditures are worthy.

While this report is largely a tribute to you who give, it is not intended to make us complacent. You have been kind, certainly generous, assuredly loyal, but with national economic trends and competition among universities for fewer students, we need continued support. We need not just your gifts, generous as they are, we need people like you to think of others who can contribute. With your support and thoughts of the MSU Foundation, we hope next year's Contributor's Report can double with names of others who believe in the gift of learning.

Levels of Giving

This year categories have been added to our traditional list of Presidents Club, Phoenix Society, and Dragon Century Club. They are happy additions. We are pleased with the number who have added themselves to these new groups. We are even more pleased that these additions afford an opportunity for all to give at some level. As you read about the organization, think of what your income and generosity can afford. Then let us know should you wish to support another level of giving.

Centennial Medallion

Dedication to quality education and the belief that knowledge is the strength for a better tomorrow have defined Moorhead State University's goal for almost a century.

This dedication began in 1887 when Solomon G. Comstock donated a six-acre plot of land for Moorhead Normal School. He saw the need for a regional institution which would train teachers to serve the needs of the rural communities along the Red River Valley. While Moorhead State University has remained basically a regional institution it has gained national and international recognition. It is one of the most highly respected universities in the country for teacher education, and its arts and business programs are competitive with the finest public and private schools anywhere.

The Centennial Medallion was established both to commemorate Moorhead State University's past and inspire confidence in its future.

Membership is based on a gift of $5,000 or an annually pledged contribution of $1,000 a year for five years.

Emissary Award

For education to make its full impact on society, it must travel beyond the brick walls of a university campus into the daily lives of those it intends to serve and educate. This breaking beyond the university walls is accomplished by the university's graduates.

And many have succeeded greatly in their endeavors. From Moorhead State have come great emissaries in the fields of medicine, government service, the arts, the military, business, industry, education and the sciences. Broadway actors, Metropolitan Opera stars, military leaders, internationally recognized scientists, top national consultants, television personalities, world renowned artists and great educators all grace the alumni rosters of Moorhead State. Such emissaries should continue to be educated at MSU.

Thus the Emissary award provides a vehicle by which business, corporations and individuals can invest substantial financial support in the future of Moorhead State University's students. membership is based on a gift of $5,000 or an annually pledged contribution of $1,000 a year for five years.

The Presidents Club

The Presidents Club is dedicated to the development of Moorhead State as a university which provides high quality education for its students.

Founded in 1969, the Presidents Club recognizes nearly a century of academic excellence and public service. It also pledges support to the University president in his efforts to maintain these qualities.

Membership consists of individuals, businesses and corporations who are concerned with higher education and are united in their support of our university.

Dedication to excellence has long been the key in developing any institution of higher learning. In pursuing this goal, each member pledges financial assistance and encouragement to special programs not funded by the state. One key element in achieving excellence is the flexibility of the special presidential discretionary fund provided by this support.

Lifetime membership in the Presidents Club is shared by husband and wife and based on a gift of $2,500 or an annually pledged contribution of $500 a year for five years.

Cum Laude Club

Moorhead State University's dedication to quality education began with its founders who set high standards for themselves and their students to follow. The demand for these high standards to be followed still exist today.

Each year the University awards over 400 scholarships to students who have proven themselves academically superior through high college entrance test scores, high school rank in the top seven percent or cumulative grade point averages of 3.4 or better during their college careers. Each recipient must also demonstrate an outstanding record of leadership through participation in campus activities or provide evidence of distinguished scholarship in a particular field.

The Cum Laude Club provides special funds that make these scholarships possible.

Membership in the Cum Laude Club is based on a gift of $1,250 or an annually pledged contribution of $250 a year for five years.

Phoenix Society

The phoenix is a mythical creature familiar to many people. Legends tell there is only one brilliantly plumed red, gold and blue phoenix for each historical era. As an old epoch ends and as a new one begins, the phoenix burns on its pyre singing of what is past and what is to come. From the ashes, the bird is reborn to sing again.

The phoenix is an appropriate symbol of the University's past. The Old Main fire of 1930 led to the rebirth of a greater Moorhead State Teachers College. An epoch ended with the fire, a new one began with the quick support from alumni, faculty and friends of the college. This support continues and is still needed.

Like that fabled bird, the Phoenix Society recognizes the unique achievements of the past and helps to preserve them through special projects and collections. It will heed the needs of the present, needs a state-supported institution cannot meet through regular funds. These unique endeavors, funded with the approval of the president, will herald in that new and bright epoch of which the phoenix sings.

Phoenix membership is shared by husband and wife and is based on a $500 gift or an annually pledged contribution of $100 a year for five years.

Honors Club

The Honors Club began in 1979 as a result of requests made by the staff senate of Moorhead State University and parents of enrolled students who wished to support various University programs.

The Club is designed as a starter organization and serves as a base for those wishing to begin a continuing financial relationship with the University.

Honors Club membership is based on a contribution of $250 or a pledged gift of $50 a year for five years. Through the Honors Club, friends of the University can become members of the Moorhead State University Foundation for a contribution of only $8.50 paid bimonthly.

Dragon Century Club

From its modest beginning in 1968, the Dragon Century Club has grown to a vital force of over 200 members supporting student athletes at Moorhead State University. Its sole purpose is to provide scholarships to academically qualified and athletically talented Dragon athletes.

Moorhead State University is a well respected athletic power in the upper Midwest. Successful recruiting is the heart of a healthy athletic program and depends on financial assistance. Through athletic scholarships many talented student athletes have been given the opportunity to attain a college education that would likely have been denied them because of personal financial limitations.

Through a fine intercollegiate athletic program, the Dragons have provided entertainment and enjoyment for students, faculty, alumni and friends alike. It has brought added prestige to the University and has provided a rallying point for the creation and maintenance of school spirit, vital to a healthy university atmosphere.

Membership in the Dragon Century Club is based on a yearly contribution of $100 which entitles you to a membership card, wall plaque, athletic publications, two tickets for each home game, reserved seats, preferred parking, listing in game programs and invitations to various social events during the year.

Straw Hat Player Scholarship Fund

The Straw Hat Player Summer Theatre Company at Moorhead State University is known throughout the country for its outstanding productions and high degree of professionalism. Each summer since 1963 a company of 50 actors and technicians has presented eight full-length professional theatre productions for the entertainment and cultural enrichment of the community. In recent years audiences have topped 16,000.

Students and semi-professional company members must assume prohibitive financial obligations for tuition, room, board and other expenses with little or no financial aid while working 80 hours a week for 10 weeks. The Straw Hat Player Scholarship Fund helps to alleviate some of this financial burden. The fund does not contribute to production costs including sets, costumes or royalties, but solely to financially aid actors at a level comparable to other summer theatre programs.

Sustaining memberships in any amount listed below will provide continuing support for this purpose. Sponsor-$1,000, Patron-$500 Donor-$100, Friend-$35

Leadership

Any successful fund-raising group needs active leadership. We are fortunate to have leaders from the community who strongly support and strongly believe in Moorhead State University. We should like you to know more about our two presidents and to see the names of those on the boards who provide direction to the Foundation and the Alumni Association.

Robert Stenerson

Robert Stenerson, President of the Moorhead State University Foundation for the second consecutive year, also acts as a catalyst attempting to demonstrate Moorhead State University's impact on the Fargo-Moorhead area.

Stenerson came to Moorhead in 1946 and has since become a prominent businessman and community leader. He graduated from North Dakota State University and is part owner and President of Stenerson Brothers Lumber Company in Moorhead. He and his wife, Georgiann, actively participate in the Clay County Republican party, Georgiann currently serving as chairperson.

The Stenersons joined the Presidents Club in 1972 and have since been instrumental in developing the Club and Foundation. Stenerson watched Moorhead State University grow in size and excellence yet noticed it was not getting the community support it deserves. Through the Foundation, Stenerson promotes Moorhead State in the area and has tried to illustrate the school's importance in the community.

He currently chairs the Business Development League for State University Communities for the second year and is past president of the Greater Moorhead Development Center and the Chamber of Commerce.

Stenerson believes a community supporting three colleges sometimes neglect one school, which has happened to Moorhead State University in the past. But he feels the area should take an active role in maintaining a quality school. His activities in the Foundation demonstrate the trust and support he has in Moorhead State University.

Ann Cichy

As President of the Moorhead State University Alumni Association, Ann Sundstad Cichy assists the organization in its efforts to maintain a bridge between the University and its alumni.

Originally from Perley, Minnesota, Cichy has lived in the Fargo-Moorhead area since she began college. The 1969 graduate currently works as a realtor for First Realty Inc. in Fargo. She belongs to the Board of Realtors and Junior League.

Cichy started active participation in the Moorhead State University Alumni Association five years ago. She served as the organization's secretary before election to a two-year term as president in 1979.

The Alumni Association demonstrates its loyalty to the University by providing scholarships to students and volunteering assistance in other University related activities.

Cichy believes many graduates and students of Moorhead State fail to realize the fine reputation the college has developed. They lose sight of the fact their school is respected all over the upper Midwest. This reputation has developed partly through alumni, who demonstrate the quality of their education in their work and accomplishments and thus play an important role in the continuing success of the University.

Moorhead State University Foundation, Inc.

Financial Statement

through September 30, 1979

This statement is based on the last full audit. The months beyond September have witnessed many contributions to Moorhead State University. We hope the scholarship report for 1979-80 will show where these contributions have gone.
