Study Time Increased In Library

New Sunday library hours went into effect last week. The new hours are 2:00 p.m.-10:00 p.m.

The change is largely due to a proposal presented to Dr. Neumaier and members of the faculty Senate early in the fall.

The proposal submitted by a Moorhead State College student and backed by the Student Senate suggested a re-arrangement of week-end hours.

The proposal stated four main reasons for the change. Many students study Sunday night. Most students don't have access to research material at this time. Many students who go home for the week-end come during the late afternoon; these students have not been here to take advantage of Saturday hours. The college also has about one-hundred study rooms for fourteen-hundred dormitory students. Therefore many people do not have a quiet place to study.

After approval by the Senate, the proposed change was presented to the library committee to be accepted and put into action.

The library committee is comprised of Dr. Charles Magel, chairman of the Department of Philosophy and chairman of the committee; Dr. William Alling, assistant professor of physics; Dr. James Condell, chairman of the Department of Psychology; Dr. Verle Flood, professor of American literature; Dr. Lysle Meyer, assistant professor of history; Dr. Walter Stotzer, assistant professor of Russian and German; Mr. Bernard Gill, head librarian and ex-officio member; Dr. Roland Dille, acting academic dean and ex-officio member; and Thomas Bahr, senior, student member.

It was suggested by Dr. Magel rather than re-arrange week-end hours that Saturday hours remain as they are and Sunday hours become as shown on the student proposal. This meant an additional three hours of study time. The committee passed this recommendation.

Staffing the library for the extra hours was left up to Gill to work out. Professionally and clerically the library is under-staffed. For this reason the library is open under the supervision of student assistants from 5:00-10:00 Sunday evenings.

The new library hours are as follows:
Monday	7:45 a.m.-10:00 p.m.
Tuesday	7:45 a.m.-10:00 p.m.
Wednesday	7:45 a.m.-10:00 p.m.
Thursday	7:45 a.m.-10:00 p.m.
Friday	7:45 a.m.- 5:00 p.m.
Saturday	10:00 a.m.- 5:30 p.m.
Sunday	2:00 p.m.-10:00 p.m.

Robert L. Short will use "Peanuts" cartoons with spiritual applications in his Tuesday morning convocation in the Center for the Arts Auditorium.

Ballet Tickets Now On Sale For Series

Ticket sales for Ruth Page's International Ballet, next in the Performing Arts Series, will be held January 11-17 according to Gerald Ippolito, director of the series. Tickets may be purchased in the series office, CA 123, between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Student tickets are $1 with an activity card.

Among the dances featured in the January 20 program will be "The Waltz of the Flowers," "Dance Arabe" and "Trepak" from Tschai-kowsky's "Nutcracker Suite." The dances are choreographed by Ruth Page.

"Carmina Burana" and "All's Fair in Love and War", both choreographed by Ruth Page are also included. "All's Fair in Love and War" is a comedy number and "Carmina Burana" is based on music inspired by 12th and 13th century Latin manuscripts. Another feature will be "La Lecon" based on the play by Eugene Ionesco.

American stars of the company include Patricia Klekovic and Kenneth Johnson who have performed extensively on the stage and television. Kristen Simone and Henning Krostam of the Royal Danish Ballet will also be featured. Miss Simone and Krostam are the Premiere Danseuse and Premiere Danseur of the Danish company. Also starring is Josette Amiel of the Paris Opera. Miss Amiel has performed with the Bolshoi Ballet and on the opera house stages of Leningrad, Berlin, Rome, Copenhagen and London's Royal Opera in Covent Garden.

The performance will be held January 20 at 8:15 p.m. in the Center for the Arts Auditorium.

On the panel will be a Baha'i, a Catholic, Jew, Mormon, Dr. Burchard of Moorhead State College representing a form of atheism, and a believer in reincarnation.

Barbara Greener, chairman of the Religious Affairs Committee, said, "We recommend that those who see the movie 'The Parable' see it twice in a row. It will be easier to catch and understand the symbolism this way."

She also said that the Bookstore will be selling "The Gospel According to Peanuts" at the time of the convocation.

Short has written many other articles relating Theology and the Arts, the field in which he is currently working toward his Ph.D. at The University of Chicago. These have appeared in publications here and abroad, including the Sunday Chicago Tribune, Motive, Crossroads, Arena, Together, Americas, The Episcopalian, and the Midwest Magazine of the Chicago Sun-Times.

A native of Texas, Short spent one year as a professional actor with the Margo Jones Repertory Theater in Dallas. He was a staff announcer for KOSA-TV in Odessa, Texas, and worked as a director in the production department of WFAA-TV in Dallas. He later served as Director of the Department of Radio and Television for the Greater Dallas Council of Churches.

Experiences in a variety of media brought Short to an awareness of the possibilities of the arts as a means of communicating religious truths, and when he became responsible for a morning devotional TV series, he began using PEANUTS cartoons as a type of modern-day parable. Later, because of many requests, these brief segments were expanded into a full-length program and presented in person for church, club, and student groups.

New precautionary methods are now being used in the library to aid in the prevention of the loss of books. (Photo by Bjornstad.)

A Modest Proposal

For the second winter in a row the Grantham Hall Driveway is reserved for snowmobiles and other vehicles more adaptable to the snow than American automobiles. Apparently, we hear, the paving of this driveway was unable to be completed by the time the ground froze and now will be postponed to the future.

This situation presents us at MSC with marvelous opportunity to further enhance the recreational facilities at our fine school. No, we are not asking for a snowmobile track. We have a much simpler idea in mind.

Why not flood the circular part of the driveway with water and have a good sized skating rink? A large part of the main lot could still be saved for parking, and there would be little damage to the unpaved ground. This rink would also be located where it could be used by the largest concentration of on-campus students.

There are still other advantages. The driveway would then be kept clear of cars, (something now impossible) in case emergency vehicles needed to reach either the High Rise or Grantham Hall. The area is presently lighted well enough so the only need is for water. Dorms could have skating parties without having to hunt for a rink. As far as rink maintenance goes, a spin around the rink with the spinning broom now used on sidewalks would do the trick.

Why don't we make something nice out of this mess?

Pres. Urges Support

An opportunity to learn more about international problems and the major agency that seeks to relieve some of these problems will be available here January 26 when a Model United Nations Assembly will be held at North Dakota State University. I sincerely hope that a great many Moorhead State College students will take advantage of this opportunity to participate in the assembly, to study and learn more about some of the difficulties the world faces in achieving better understanding and to share thoughts on the serious problems of today with equally-concerned students from other colleges and universities.

Moorhead State College has students from 12 foreign countries and numerous faculty members who were educated abroad, and I know there is a large measure of international concern here. I am hopeful, therefore, that the attendance from Moorhead State College this year will be equal or exceed that of last year when the participation of this college was particularly outstanding.

Living in a world in which social and international problems still are not resolved peacefully, it behooves us to acquaint ourselves with those problems and to explore alternatives to violence as a means of solving them. The world we live in is shaped not only by others but also by ourselves.

It is at this point that I appeal to you to please call Dr. Arif Hayat, 237-7411, or Tom Sand, MSC ext. 209, indicating that you will participate in this year's Model U.N. Assembly meetings. I will look forward to seeing you there, since I have been invited to speak at the evening banquet.

New Need for Mystic

I don't know who it is that wrote the lead editorial in the December 2 issue, but it seems to me that it encourages adding insult to injury.

I, for one, don't like the idea of paying $15 for a student activity card. I didn't like the idea of paying $10. Therefore you believe my statement warrants your hanging a label of stupidity on me.

Far be it from me to question your ability of ESP because I am sure we have never met. However, I do have the right to give my opinion about the campus newspaper which you edit. I won't say that it is stupid or indifferent; instead I will praise it and say: it makes a good substitute for a catalog in any out house but not for the purpose of reading your editorials.

Bernard Jabin

(Editor's Note: Having edited our way through your letter, may we offer our deepest apologies, sir! Had we known of your predicament with the catalog, we would have saved many more back copies of the Mystic for you.)

Official Bulletin

Notices must be received by 10:00 a.m. the Monday prior to publication and should be sent to Official Bulletin, 206 MacLean. Except for certain notices of unusual campus-wide importance, notices will be printed only once.

Students and staff are urged to read the Official Bulletin as they are answerable for notices that affect them.

A minimum Grade Point Average of 2.0 must be achieved in the 64 General Studies credits in order to qualify for graduation. Grades from courses transferred from other colleges that have been substituted in various General Studies requirements will be included when computing General Studies GPA. A minimum GPA of 2.0 must be attained in courses taken at Moorhead State. If a course is repeated, only the second grade counts in computing the General Studies GPA.

The above methods of computing GPA are true for the General Studies requirement only.

Students planning to student teach during the Spring Quarter, 1967, and who have not yet completed their application for student teaching, must complete this application before January 25. Applications received after this date may result in a delayed or postponed assignment. Necessary forms are available in the Student Teaching Office.

Preliminary interviews for Spring Quarter student teachers will be conducted during the period January 30-February 11. Sign up for this interview on the bulletin board outside of room 302, MacLean Hall.

NOTICE

Students and faculty may sign up for the 1967 Dragon in MacLean 206 January 16-20. Students must pay 50 cents. The faculty price is $3.50. This is the last opportunity.

Deadline for senior pictures for the 1967 Dragon is March 31. Pictures not in by this time will not be in the yearbook. The student's name, home town and major must be on the envelope.

Bring pictures into the Publications Office, 206 MacLean.

Sand Lauds Arts Concert

It has been a very bad year to review the Performing Arts Series. Everyone knows my vocabulary contains very few synonyms for good and those are the words I have needed. I can only hope Mr. Ippolito will soon book a loser and allow me to release a few frustrations.

In spite of all the obstructions placed in her way by the airlines and MSC, Marilyn Horne again demonstrated her right to be placed with the great sopranos of our day.

Even while warming up (the airlines didn't allow her to do so before the concert) Miss Horne showed her fantastic range by singing "Far from the Realms."

Her second selection was "Frauenliebe und Leben," opus 42 by Schumann. German songs generally lack the ability to excite me. There is something very unmusical about a language that contains words like ich, glauben and Schmerz. Miss Horne let me enjoy German for the first time.

The recitative "Ecce mi al fine" and the aria "Ah quel giorno" from "Semiramide," which began the second half of Miss Horne's concert, amply displayed the full richness of her voice at all ranges. It was probably the best of her outstanding numbers.

Since some enterprising person managed to turn up the lights and hasten the audience's departure, we were deprived of any encores, making the evening entirely too short though greatly rewarding.

The Sandbox

by Tom Sand

Once every other millenium a man comes into the world to be accepted as the final authority on everything. It is the responsibility of such great men to look into the future and prepare his followers for the happiness and catastrophes to come. Always willing to accept my responsibilities, I will now predict the great events of 1967.

I PREDICT:

Lyndon Johnson will resign the Presidency to become head of the National Academy of Arts and Sciences.

After becoming President, Hubert Humphrey will withdraw U.S. forces from Viet Nam and use the Defense Department budget to improve the wild rice industry in Minnesota.

Adam Clayton Powell will leave Washington for Hollywood where he will play Jesus Christ in a reissue of "The Robe." Mao Tse-Tung's wife will assume control of the Chinese mainland to prove that actresses can also succeed in politics.

Karl Rolvaag and Dr. Frank Kendrick will collaborate with Richard Nixon on a new book about American politics.

Gerald Ippolito will request a $5 million budget to improve the Performing Arts Series. The 1967 series will include the Bolshoi Ballet, the Cleveland Symphony, the MSC Stage Band and Jack Benny.

Dr. Frank Noice will be dismissed from the MSC faculty for teaching "Genesis" to freshman biology students.

Richard Schreiber will pay his dues for the Association of College Publications Advisors and again be selected for the association's Who's Who.

Dennis Lien will shave his beard and become associate editor of Classic Comics. James Arneson will utilize action instead of words in his last quartet as a student senator.

Joe Bernick will be elected to the Student Senate to replace Arneson and insure continued verbosity.

The Mystic will publish at least one issue during a week it is needed.

Tom Sand will be assassinated and canonized as a martyr for all that is sacred in American society.

Stone Proposes New System

Senate Debates Election Recommendations

Two Senate elections — both fall and winter quarters — were recommended by Student Senator John Stone at a recent Senate meeting. The change from present procedure involving constitutional amendment will provide for election of half the senators at each time.

The proposed amendment was favored by the Senate as a whole. The motion will probably be brought forward for a vote at next Monday's meeting. The Senate constitution al-

4. If the treasurer could be elected fall quarter, he would have a quarter's experience before having to grapple with budget requests.

5. Candidates — especially for the office of president — would have time during Thanksgiving vacation to prepare their fall campaigns.

6. The two-election system might create more freshman interest in the Senate.

Joe Bernick, observer at the meeting, objected that probably freshmen wouldn't run for office anyway and that Senate work might be slowed down because of new Senators coming in all the time.

Senator Steve Zalusky said, "Senate work won't slow down because there will be people there all the time who know what they are doing."

The bulk of controversy centered around how to divide the election of officers, particularly when to elect the president.

Stone felt that electing the president in the fall would give him an edge of experience in dealing with the Senate.

The majority of the Senators agreed with President Viki Littlefield: that the president should be elected in winter quarter.

Zalusky said, "Students will be more aware of the issues, since they will have been brought forward in the fall elections. They should vote more intelligently when electing the president winter quarter."

Senator Rich Jamison presented two reasons for electing the president in the fall: "The president will have no superiority if elected in the winter. This method would also give a defeated presidential candidate another chance to run for a Senate seat in the winter."

James Arneson countered, "Freshmen are easily impressed — you'll get the most popular Freshman Week counsellor for president."

Zalusky agreed. "By leaving the presidential election for winter quarter we'll have the best-informed electorate. They'll have been confronted with the issues twice."

Stone, agreeing with this view, said, "This will give the presidential candidates the chance to see which issues were successful fall quarter."

A straw vote indicated 8-4 in favor of electing the president winter quarter.

John Stone

so requires a vote on proposed amendments by the student body.

Stone cited several possible advantages to a two-election system.

1. The system would provide for Senate continuity, with only half the Senators being new to their jobs at a time.

2. A candidate losing the fall election would be able to run again for the winter election.

3. The system would create more student interest in the Senate.

Theatre Begins Work

Annual Musical To Be Saga Of Orphan 'Oliver'

Oliver, the family musical hit by Lionel Bart, has been chosen as the 1967 musical production of the Moorhead State College Theatre. The all-college production will be presented for four performances in the new Center for the Arts auditorium on February 8, 9 and 10 beginning at 8:15 p.m.

The production, which holds the record as the longest-running musical in British history, is based on Charles Dickens' novel, Oliver Twist, and retells in musical terms the adventures of an orphan boy in Victorian London's underworld. The musical drew audiences for two years in New York, five years in London, and made four major American tours. It was also a prize-winner in New York where it captured all the major theatrical awards in 1963 for its music and lyrics.

Written in its entirety by Lionel Bart, the production revisits the haunts and characters made famous by Dickens in 1838 in his portrayal of the thieves' dens and workhouses of the London of that time. The show's musical curtain riser, "Food, Glorious Food," sung by a chorus of orphans sets the pace for the twelve tunes which follow.

Dr. Delmar J. Hansen is production director, Earnest Harris serves as music director and the art design and technical work is under the direction of Aubrey Wilson and Larry Foreman of the MSC Theatre Department.

Dragon Matmen Host Bemidji Tonight

The nationally-acclaimed Moorhead State College wrestling Dragons open their 1967 dual meet season this Friday when they host Bemidji State College in a 7:30 affair at Alex Nemzek Fieldhouse.

The Dragons have limited their action thus far to a couple of individual appearances in the Great Plains Tournament in Lincoln, Neb., and the freshmen-veterans match, won decisively by the vets last week.

Dragon coach Bill Garland is optimistic about the 1967 season, despite the loss of a pair of national place winners and despite a more demanding schedule.

"We have strengthened ourselves at almost every weight. More experience will make better wrestlers out of the young freshmen and sophomores we had last season, and we feel we are certainly much stronger at 177 and 191," Garland commented.

"We certainly will miss (Raphael) Gonshorowski and (Bob) Billberg, but we'll just have to adjust as best we can. You just can't find kids like that every day. We hope, however, that some of veterans can pick up the slack."

Despite the Dragons' impressive returning lineup, Garland is cautious about Friday's meeting with the Beavers.

"We can't take them lightly. We would be foolish if we did. All reports indicate they have improved considerably from last year and could surprise a lot of people this year," Garland warned.

Against Bemidji, Garland will likely use the following starting lineup: 115- Jon Bormann; 123- Rick Kelvington; 130- Bill Germann; 137- Larry Gonshorowski or Fred Piotrowsky; 145- Rick Stuyvesant; 152- Fred Hall or Buddy Starks; 160- Dick Redfoot; 167- Marv Gunderson; 177 Frank Mosier; 191- Larry Lundberg.

The Beavers will likely start in the following fashion: 115-Tom Ruzicka; 123- Rick Eng; 130- Tom Wilson; 137- Don Kuusinen; 145- Steve Larson; 152- Wayne Gysland; 160- John Casagrande; 167- Jerry Vanderesch; 177- Jim Beach; 191- Steve Kallsen. Dale Koslucher is slated to wrestle heavyweight for Bemidji but Garland has not been able to find a heavyweight for the Dragons thus far.

Mike Fitzgerald, 137-pound sophomore from N. Bellmore, N. Y., has been sidelined with injuries thus far and will not wrestle against Bemidji. The extent of his injury is not known and Garland is uncertain when the promising sophomore will be able to return to duty.

Moorhead State, a 14-3 finisher for the 1965-66 season, dumped the Beavers last year 32-10. Following the Beaver meeting Friday, Moorhead adjourns till January 23 when the Dragons travel to Carbondale, Ill., to tangle with Southern Illinois University.

Dragon co-captain Cactus Warner skips past a pair of indifferent Mayville defenders for a layup in MSC's recent triumph over the Comets.

In Sioux Falls Saturday

Moorhead Meets Augustana

The basketball Dragons of Moorhead State College get a one week reprieve from the hectic Northern Intercollegiate Conference title chase, stepping out of NIC play for a non-conference tilt at Augustana this Saturday.

M-State owned a 5-3 seasonal record prior to last night's meeting with Concordia but no result was available as this paper went to press.

The Dragons, who split a weekend series at Winona and Mankato last weekend, meet Augustana of Sioux Falls, S. D., Saturday night in Sioux Falls.

The Vikings, a 7-17 finisher last season, are anchored by 6-5 junior forward John Eggers of Sioux Falls who led the Norsemen in scoring as a sophomore with a 15.8 average last season.

Although Ed Byhre (15.8) and Dan Westerlund (11.5) have departed, first year coach Roy Dewitz has retained guard Jim Breit and frontliners Dave Palm (6-6), Dennis Johnson (6-2) and Dennis Allaman (6-7).

Junior college transfers Jerry Chamberlain (6-2), Bob Floyd (6-2) and John Olson (6-5), along with sophomores Dan Coakley (5-10), Dick Foster (6-2) and Bill Squires (6-5) have brightened the Augustana cage outlook considerably.

Dragon coach Larry MacLeod will likely employ Cactus Warner and Hank Riehm at the guards, Gary Senske at center and Carl Potratz along with Chuck Johnson at forwards.

The Dragons stayed in the title chase in the NIC by salvaging a weekend split with an 84-79 triumph over Mankato Saturday night. M-State bowed to Winona 94-66 Friday night.

Although four Dragons were banished with fouls, veterans Warner and Riehm led a backcourt shooting gallery that held off the uprising Beavers that Moorhead claimed its first league victory.

Riehm topped the Dragon attack with 27 points while Warner added 22. Senske chipped in with 14. Center Rich Wanzek led Mankato with 30.

Against Winona Friday night, scintillating Dave Meisner, the 5-8 Warrior dynamo shed the Dragons' defensive bests to score 31 points and pace the explosive Warriors past the sagging Dragons, 94-66.

On Monday, Moorhead registered its fifth victory of the season with a 88-74 conquest over Valley City State at Valley City.

Five Dragons hit double figures against the VC, with Riehm topping the Dragon scoring parade with 26. Potratz and rapidly improving Doug Jacobson scored 12 while Joe Daniels scored 11 and Senske 10.

BASEBALL MEETING
There will be a meeting of all baseball candidates on Friday, January 13 at 4:30 p.m. in Room 107, Nemzek Hall. This includes freshmen, transfers, lettermen, and anyone interested.
