a. Minor Changes:

The committee had no objection to the following changes however they did discuss the course level changes at length. Conteh requested that Wheeler justify the course level changes proposed. Wheeler stated that the changes meet the policy criteria and the current course level is not an accurate reflection of the breadth and depth of the course content. He advises students to complete the introduction courses prior to enrolling in these courses, however, that is not a mandatory prerequisite. Wheeler stated these changes are being brought forth now so they are included in the new Bulletin. These changes should not impact students already in the program. The committee discussed how important it is for departments to document how proposed course level changes meet the guidelines stated within the course level policy.

Reed stated that he was told by Dean Klenk that there is no intent to increase staffing in the Art department. Oltvedt stated that the department plans to rotate courses on a two year schedule.
