The Task Force members will consider those suggestions but had not changed the original proposal. It was suggested that after two years, the progress of the major be reported back to APAC. Two of the Political Science faculty members expressed their disapproval of the program.

Motion carried with the vote of 5 yes and 4 abstentions.

Sandy Pearce was present to answer questions. VP Midgarden explained that ENGL 190 and 290 have been removed from the agenda. The English Department is attempting to provide a good approach for transfer students who lack the requisite credits to satisfy liberal studies division A, and needs more time to think about the issue.

Shreve moved. Edvenson seconded to approve reducing the B.S. Degree in English (Teaching Communications Arts/Literature) from 48 to 47 credits.

ENGL 496: Literature Capstone will be removed from the required category and moved to the elective category which reduces the degree by 1 credit.

Dalhousie moved. Shimabukuro seconded to approve the change in the Honor Program recruitment process to which makes students eligible who achieved a 3.5 GPA during spring semester, even if their fall semester GPA was lower than 3.5.

Hughey stated that approximately 50 students enrolled in the Honors program fall semester and an additional 60-65 students would have qualified the second semester. He stated that GPA is the only criteria to be enrolled in the program but he welcomes suggestions regarding changing standards. He sent a letter to faculty members asking them to refer students to him that may qualify or are close to qualifying for the Honors program.

Motion carried unanimously.

Janet Haak Aarness was present to answer questions.

Dalhousie moved. Edvenson seconded to approve the policy that a student can no longer request a retroactive withdrawal after 5 years have passed since the semester in question.

The committee discussed how this policy would affect students who were granted Academic Forgiveness, the need to remind faculty to keep grading and attendance records and/or give them to the department when they leave the University, that this policy could not be appealed, and the need to inform students of the new policy.

Motion carried unanimously.

9. Change the Graduation Honors Requirement to:

Students who complete at least 43 credits at MSUM as candidates for baccalaureate degrees may graduate with honors.

Theodore Gracyk stated that the Nursing Department submitted this request and it was discussed by the Directors and Chairpersons from the College of Education & Human Services. They proposed that the current 64 credits be reduced to 43. John Tandberg gave statistics on the percent of students that graduate with honors and the policies from some other institutions. He suggested 60 credits, if the policy is changed. The committee will act on this proposal at the next APAC meeting.

11. 2002/2003 and 2003/2004 Academic Calendars

John Tandberg was present to answer questions. He stated that these calendars match the Tri-College University calendars. The committee discussed the following items:

A three week break between fall and spring semester:

- NDSU also has a three week break between semesters.
- This was popular with the MSUM Calendar Committee and other faculty.
- This would allow more time between semesters to notify students that they are on probation or suspension.

A fall semester breather in October:

- Tandberg noted that the Student Senate wants the “breather” day fall semester
- Faculty on the Calendar Committee was split on their vote for the “breather”
- The Biology department does not approve of the “breather” because it would interfere with their scheduled labs.
- Move the breather day to the Thanksgiving break, allowing students an extra day for travel.
- How students utilize the “breather” day.
- How other universities issue a “breather” for their students.

Instructional Days:

- There are 73 instructional days fall semester and 75 instructional days spring semester.

Grading Day/Deadline:

- The timeline when grades are due at the end of each semester.
- How the Registrar’s office tries to accommodate the grading deadline for faculty that have late finals.
- The time constraints for reporting grades to students has been relieved somewhat because students can receive their grades via the internet (grades used to be mailed to the students which meant all grades needed to be entered prior to the mailing date).

The 2002/2003 and 2003/2004 Academic Calendars will be discussed at the 4/19/01 IFO Meet & Confer.

Meeting adjourned at 6:00 p.m.
