Issue 7

Moorhead State College, Moorhead, Minnesota

November 2, 1962

MSC students are invited to attend the luncheon Saturday at which Ambassador Loeb will speak. Students who have meal tickets will be admitted to the luncheon by paying an additional 25 cents. These students must remain until all the speeches have been concluded, however.

"Bye Bye Birdie" due next week; tickets now available

Student tickets for Bye Bye Birdie will continue on sale Mon. through Fri., Nov. 9, from 10 a.m. - 2 p.m., at the campus box office in the lobby of Weld Auditorium.

Students are urged to pick up their tickets early in order to be assured good seats. As in the past, the usual reservation fee of 50 cents per ticket will be charged for full-time students upon presentation of their activity cards. Married students are entitled to two tickets at the reduced rates. No student tickets will be sold at the door.

One of the more imaginative reviewers, Kenneth Tynan of The New Yorker, spoke thusly of Bye Bye Birdie: "I didn't care for the dream ballet. I am not exactly wild about the title of the show, which derived its alliteration from the fact that plot has to do with a rock-'n'-roll singer named Conrad Birdie and his departure from civilian life to undergo military training. To add to the list of complaints. I didn't like the picture on the cover of the program, and the theatre struck me as being overheated. And that about does it; as far as derogation is concerned, I have shot my bolt. Everything else about Bye Bye Birdie seemed to me completely enchanting, and filled with a kind of affectionate freshness that we have seldom encountered since Mr. Rodgers swayed by the boisterous enthusiasm of the first-night audience."

A number of students working on the staging of "Bye Bye Birdie" are reigning queens.

The queen most recently chosen is sophomore Sue Blinkenberg who will be crowned Miss Wells Fargo tonight in the Fargo Civic Memorial Auditorium.

The Wells Fargo Days over which she reigns is a three-day event (November 1-3) sponsored by the Retail Division of the Fargo Chamber of Commerce.

Sue, a resident of Fargo, majors in speech therapy and minors in psychology, and is a member of Psi Delta Kappa sorority.

Ruby Matthies, the 1962 MSC Homecoming Queen, who plays Rose Alvarez in "Bye Bye Birdie," also holds the title of Miss Crookston. Daphne Thompson, who portrays Mrs. MacAfee in the musical, is Queen of the 1962 Parade of Homes sponsored by the F-M Home Builders Association.

Other royalty in the cast includes Jackie Harris, Karen Malmgren, and Bette McDunn. Jackie, runner-up in the Miss Moorhead contest, still reigns as queen of the Owl Autumn Ball. Last year's MSC Freshman Beanie Queen, Karen Malmgren, was second in the recent Miss Alexandria contest. Bette McDunn, as Miss Barnesville and Miss Northwest, went to the Minnesota contest this summer.

Several others in the production have been candidates for various other titles.

College entrance tests scheduled

American College Testing program entrance examinations will be administered to all new students who have not taken the tests on Monday evening, November 5, from 6-10 p.m. in the north recreation room of Dahl Hall. These tests must be taken before students are officially enrolled in the college.

Loeb to replace Phillips as Institute speaker

James Isaac Loeb, American Ambassador to Peru, will speak at the noon luncheon of the Institute on International Politics tomorrow, it was announced by Institute chairman Dr. Werner J. Feld recently.

Ambassador Loeb is appearing here replacing Mr. Richard I. Phillips of the U.S. State Department, who was originally scheduled to speak.

From 1930-36 Ambassador Loeb was educated at Northwestern U. and he received his Ph.D. there. From 1945-47 he was the National Director to the Union for Democratic Action.

He was also a member of the Americans for Democratic Action. He worked under President Truman from 1951-52 on a special counsel. In 1952 he was executive assistant to New York Governor W. Averell Harriman.

For the last nine years he has served as co-publisher and editor to the Adirondack Daily Enterprise at Saranac Lake, N.Y. and since 1960 he has worked as the co-publisher of the Lake Placid News. Since 1961 he has held the important position of Ambassador to Peru.

The Institute opens Friday evening at 7:30 with a discussion of the world struggle. Professor John Turner of the University of Minnesota will speak.

Saturday sessions start at 8:45 a.m. with a discussion of the European Common Market. Speakers will include Mr. Gordon Campbell, a Lord Commissioner of the treasury and a member of the British parliament; Dr. Hugo DeGroot of Brussels, representing the Common Market; Dr. Arthur Von Magnus, third secretary of the German Embassy; and Mr. Angelo Cohn, staff writer for the Minneapolis Star and Tribune.

Following the luncheon Saturday, a third panel is scheduled at 2 with Mr. Mohamed Ettri, counselor of the Tunisian embassy, and Mr. Hussain Osman, counselor of the Federation of Malaya, as speakers.

Dr. Neumaier, MSC president, said this week the Institute is part of a continuing program at the college to bring timely and significant information to area residents.

Student NEA to meet Nov. 7

On Wed., Nov. 7, there will be a meeting of the Student National Education Association. At 8 p.m., a movie, "Peace Corps in Tanganyika", will be shown in the Weld Science Lecture Room. There will be a business meeting following the movie.

Board approves names for three MSC buildings

The Minnesota State College Board has accepted recommendations of the Faculty and the President of Moorhead State College for the naming of three buildings on the campus, it was announced this week.

Approval was given for the names "Flora Frick Hall" for the Women's Physical Education building; "Kise Commons" for the new dining center which opened this week; and "Snarr Hall" for the new men's dormitory which is expected to be completed in early December. Formal dedications of the new buildings tentatively have been scheduled for next spring.

The formal resolutions authorizing the new names will appear in the MISTIC next week.

Faculty members plan party for students

Faculty members of Moorhead State College will be hosts to students at an informal "house-warming" party scheduled Wed., Nov. 14, from 8-11 p.m. in the new Food Service Center which opened this week.

Bradley to give painting demonstration

Bryon Bradley, well-known Minneapolis artist, will present an oil painting demonstration in person Mon., Nov. 5 at Hagen Hall Auditorium. The demonstration is scheduled for 8:15 p.m.

During the demonstration Mr. Bradley will paint an actual picture while explaining his technical and esthetic approach.

Born in Minnesota, Mr. Bradley studied in Minneapolis and Paris, and taught at the Minneapolis School of Art from 1952 to 1959. He is a co-founder of the Grand Marais Art Colony on Lake Superior, where he spends summers painting and teaching. During the winter he works in his position as a partner in the Kilbride-Bradley Art Gallery in Minneapolis. He has exhibited in the major regional shows, in 1959 he had a one-man exhibit at the Walker Art Center in Minneapolis.

An informal coffee hour will be held after the demonstration. The demonstration is to be held in conjunction with Mr. Bradley's exhibit which begins November 5 on third floor, MacLean Hall.

Religious News

Wesley

Dr. Neil Thompson will lead a discussion on the John Birch Society Thurs., Nov. 8, at 7:30 p.m. Rides will leave Dahl Hall at 6:15 for the weekly supper which will precede the discussion.

Anyone who likes to sing is invited to attend choir practice at 8:30 p.m. at Grace Methodist Church, one block south of Nemzek Fieldhouse. Men's voices are badly needed.

There will be a fireside discussion Sunday evening, November 11, at 7:30 p.m.

LSA

A joint retreat will be held with the Morris branch of the University of Minnesota and Wahpeton School of Science at Faith Haven, Battle Lake, Minn. The theme is "Prepare to Abandon Your Religion." Pastor Joe Otteson, Lutheran campus pastor at St. Cloud State College, will be the discussion leader. All who will be going must sign up at Luther Hall or call CE 3-4720. The cost for this retreat, to be held on November 9-11, is $5.

Pastor Carl Lee, campus pastor at Concordia College, will speak Thursday, Nov. 8 at 7p.m. on the topic "Let's Stop Acting." A discussion will follow the speech. LSA meets at Luther Hall which is one block west of the campus gates.

Gamma Delta

Epsilon Epsilon chapter of Gamma Delta is hosting the annual Regional Gamma Delta Convention for 1962 on November 2-4. The theme of the convention is "The Way of Love". The main objective of the convention is to elect 1962-63 regional officers and carry out any other needed business. The major portion of the convention will be at Our Redeemer Lutheran Church in Moorhead.

The convention begins tonight with registration, lunch, and recreation. There are no set times for any of these events because students will be arriving at different times. The evening closes with a vesper service.

Saturday begins with a breakfast followed by Matins. The business meeting begins after Matins and usually lasts until mid-afternoon.

The convention is highlighted by a banquet tomorrow night which will be held at the new Holiday Inn. The speaker at the banquet will be Pastor E. J. Mahnke, chaplain at the University of Minnesota. Entertainment at, and recreation after the banquet will be furnished by the Epsilon Epsilon chapter.

The convention will close with a Holy Communion Service at Our Redeemer Lutheran Church. Pastor Hannemann will be leading the students in the worship services.

The main speaker of the convention is Dr. Reuben Hahn, executive secretary of the Commission of the College and University Work in Chicago.

The registration fee is $6.00. Students may pay for separate meals. Everyone interested in Lutheran work among college students is urged to come.

To the editor:

We wish to thank David Lutes for his comments on Bye Bye Birdie in last week's Mistic and we were equally pleased that Howard Wasson chose to mention the title a second time in his editorial to Mr. Lutes. Every little bit of advertising helps!

Although we've been too busy rehearsing Bye Bye Birdie up to now to write letters to the editor, we've tried to understand the problems of running a college activity such as the Mistic. Consequently, we've managed to swallow our disappointment at having never had a complete listing of the cast members who are working hard every evening on the show, we've tried to understand that perhaps errors do occur and that's why we've had only one picture of the musical as compared with at least four pictures weekly on the back page, and we've even kept a stiff upper lip when Editor Wasson maintained that a week-old story on the Homecoming Queen, who, by the way, we are proud to have as one of our leads, would have been much better than the story he printed on the musical.

And we wondered if either Mr. Lutes or Mr. Wasson realized that the production of the annual musical might have a validity beyond its immediate news-worthiness which merits coverage. Do they know, for example, that there are a total of 152 students working on the musical, 61 of them as cast members and 91 of them on scenery construction, painting, and backstage work? Do they know that the musical serves as an attractive recruitment measure for the college, when it brings in approximately 750 high school students in the area, annually, who pay to see the show? Do they know that the musical attracts in its annual four night run a total of approximately 3,600 people from the college and the community? We challenge any other activity to make a similar claim on any one event!

So until the day when the efforts of the arts on campus are given the coverage which we believe they deserve, may we use this letter to tell you that we think we've got the "swingiest" show that any of you readers will see in a long time. The show, which spoofs the rock n' roll craze, has a laugh a minute, around 20 big musical numbers, over 100 colorful costumes, and a dozen sets of bright, new scenery. Don't be half safe, Mr. Wasson and Mr. Lutes—get your tickets early!!!
The cast and director of Bye Bye Birdie

Editor's note: As I told Dr. Hansen last Monday, not everyone is going to get as much coverage as often as they would like because of our space problems. However, I hope that you feel better now after having seen the front page. And I did buy my ticket for Bye Bye Birdie early!

Guest Editorial Amendment No. 2 most important issue being voted on next Tuesday

The most important "X" any voter will make on a ballot in the coming general election November 6, will be for an amendment — not an individual. For if Amendment No. 2 is not passed by a majority of voters in this election, there will be no state building program until 1965 at the earliest.

This will mean that none of our vitally needed state educational institutions (including Moorhead State College), hospitals, veterans facilities, and other service buildings can be improved or added to unless Amendment No. 2 passes. Amendment No. 2 must pass in order to eliminate the 100-year-old limitation of $250,000 for capital building expenditures. In place of this unrealistic limitation, Amendment No. 2 requires that financing of state buildings must be approved by 60% vote of each house of the legislature — a provision that assures watchful control of expenditures by our elected representatives.

The growth and future of Moorhead State College depends on whether this amendment is passed. One only has to look around our campus to note the importance of buildings constructed here within the past few years. Additional buildings and improvements are scheduled for MSC in the near future. These will have to wait, however, until at least 1965 if Amendment No. 2 is not passed November 6. Because we are so directly affected by the passage or rejection of this amendment, we, the students, should be doubly concerned about it.

Every citizen of Minnesota should realize the urgent need to vote for Amendment No. 2. And every citizen should know that by not voting on the Amendment either way, he is really casting a "no" vote. It takes a majority of all votes cast at the election to pass an amendment. In the next few days before the election, urge your parents and friends to vote "YES" on Amendment No. 2.

Student cooperation this past week has been good. We are planning to canvas the town of Moorhead tomorrow. To accomplish this in a short period of time, we will need more student volunteers. You, as a student, can do your part in promoting the passage of Amendment No. 2 by helping out tomorrow (Saturday). We will be meeting at MacLean Hall at 9:30 a.m. For those of you who can make it, there will be a short briefing period in the Student Commission room at 3 o'clock today.

Lawyer's role told to Law Club

by Vern Overby

Prof. William Lockhart, speaking to the Blackstone Society on Monday evening, stressed the role of the lawyer as an outstanding member of the community.

Lockhart, who is dean of the Law School at the University of Minnesota, spoke on the topic, "Law as a Career". He emphasized that the popular edict of an oversupply of lawyers is completely false.

While business has increased from two to three times what it was in 1929, he said, the number of students studying law has remained about the same. Lockhart said that when taking into account the fact that business has the biggest demand for lawyers, the need for good lawyers becomes very real.

Commenting on destinations of law graduates, Lockhart pointed out that the greatest number—about 60 per cent—go into private practice. This does not mean that they set up their own private practice, for very few do this, but that they become associated with already-established law firms.

Approximately 10 to 20 per cent of the graduates go to work for a corporation, he stated. Of these, some may be in the legal department of the corporation and some may step directly into executive posts.

Another great demand for legal experts comes from the government, he added. Although few lawyers actually remain in government service, about 20 per cent of the graduates begin here. The government demand represents a problem that has not been met by the law schools across the nation, Lockhart declared.

Although lawyers are characterized as prosecutors in court rooms, the primary responsibilities of the lawyer are as a counselor and mediator.

The lawyer is the center of planning in the community and is looked to for leadership in society, Lockhart pointed out, adding that approximately one-third of a lawyer's time is spent in a non-paying capacity, as a leader in community activities.

Law school not only teaches the student the history of law, but more important, the creation of law, he said. Law has evolved as it has because of the lawyer; law is constantly changing and expanding, and it is the lawyer who has had the responsibility of creating new, effective, and just law, Lockhart emphasized.

Lockhart pointed out that in choosing a law school, a student should pick one that has a highly skilled faculty, good library facilities, and is not too large.

Confederate ideology analyzed

by Carolyn Klinnert

Dr. David W. Noble, associate professor of history at the University of Minnesota, spoke at the Wednesday convocation on the topic "Jefferson Davis and Alexander Stephens—Ideology and Organization of the Southern Confederacy."

But Dr. Noble offered substantial evidence that the South really did not want to set up a new nation. Therefore the question, "Why did Southerners so abjectly surrender the idea of national independence?" can be answered, according to Dr. Noble, thusly: "They never had that idea in the first place."

Only one thing set the South apart from the North. This was the peculiar institution of slavery. The Southerners stated, many of them in all sincerity, that they didn't exploit the Negroes for profit, but they took care of them as serfs.

"To see the real dualism of the Confederacy," he continued, "and perhaps the reason for its collapse, it is necessary to study the Confederacy's president and vice president, Jefferson Davis and Alexander Stephens."

We find Stephens was a typical Southerner. He was a member of Congress and a great advocate of the railroads. When the South stated that they would secede from the Union if Abraham Lincoln was elected president, Stephens campaigned for Douglas to preserve the Union. When Lincoln was elected, Stephens did everything possible to keep the states from secession.

Jefferson Davis was a Southern aristocrat. His life was a typical "romantic novel." On Davis' plantation, he treated the Negroes well, and he believed that all slavery was good. When the states seceded from the Union, Davis was chosen as president of the Southern Confederacy. Although Davis wanted to establish a separate nation, he had no real support.

With the defeat of the South came the collapse of the Confederacy, but a mythical Confederacy, because there were no real political revolutions, no revolutionary parties, and no real organization of the seceded states.

At the end of the war, Davis lost all honor. Stephens had opposed him from the beginning. He had never wanted centralization of power in the Confederacy. When the war was over, Stephens was the hero and the man that was chosen to be a representative of Congress.

The entire South seemed to be happy to be back in the Union. Robert E. Lee is a good example of a man who fought for the South only because his state needed him.

In giving a summarization of his speech, Dr. Noble said, "My explanation of why this peculiar disappearance of the ideal of the Southern Confederacy in 1865 is that there really never was that ideal."

Alvin Oyama, sophomore from Lanai City, Hawaii, was the first MSC student to be served at the new food service which opened Sunday.

...for a life of pride and purpose

Among the young people being graduated from college in these times, there are some who think and feel—perhaps a little more deeply than the others—about the world we live in, the future we face. They ask, "How can I make my career really meaningful? More than just personally rewarding?"

And many of today's most successful young people are finding a fulfilling answer to these questions as officers on the Aerospace Team... the United States Air Force. They can tell you that no career could better combine the opportunity for achievement—and the deep inner satisfaction of knowing that they are helping preserve the very future of America.

How can you become an Air Force Officer?

If you are a college senior and not currently enrolled in ROTC, Air Force Officer Training School provides an opportunity to qualify for a wide variety of career fields. The graduate of this three-month course receives a commission as a second lieutenant. As the Air Force continues its technological advance, officers with college training will move into positions of increasing importance.

For full information—including the opportunity to earn graduate degrees at Air Force expense—see the Air Force Selection Team when it visits your college, visit your local Air Force Recruiting Office, or write: Air Force Officer Career Information, Dept. SC210, Box 805, New York 1, New York.

Food service has 388 capacity

The long-awaited opening of the Moorhead State College Food Center has finally come. From first student reaction, the center was certainly worth waiting for.

The service area is in the center of the building, flanked by a hall in the west, the snack bar to the north, the kitchen to the east, and a banquet room to the south.

The service area has a serving capacity of 388 students. Much color is found in the serving area including various colored chairs, wood paneling, and slick tile floors.

The tables are of the latest design and capacitate two, four, six, and eight students.

The hall to the west caters to both lunch lines and is very attractive with a small lounge for student use.

The building houses a snack bar which is open from 7:00 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. closing only for short periods from 11:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and 1:00 to 1:30 p.m. The snack bar holds 90 students and serves breakfasts, lunches, and snacks.

The center also houses a spacious banquet room for special occasions for student and faculty groups.

The half million dollar structure houses a very modern kitchen and a well-planned service line.

Mr. Stacy, manager of the Slater Food Service, says they are awaiting the return of some of their factory-remodeled equipment before the center will have two permanent serving lines in progress. This line should be ready for service by the first part of the winter quarter.

A temporary line will be set up soon to ease the load on the single line that is now in operation.

Results of recent faculty senate elections were announced this week by Don Anderson, chairman of the senate elections committee.

Faculty senate elects officers

Dr. Glaydon Robbins was elected to the senate for a term expiring Aug. 31, 1963.

Named to senate committees for three-year terms were Miss Ruth Hanson, salary and ranking committee; Robert L. Solso, house committee; and Dr. Werner Brand, social committee.

Dr. John Jenkins was elected for a one-year term on the tenure committee.

Dragon grididders await final home gun

Winona wins NSCC title

In what many of the players called their "best" team effort of the year, MSC dropped a 29-14 decision to conference champ Winona State last Saturday night.

At halftime it was all tied up and after three quarters it was knotted at 8-8.

Winona scored first with a safety, pouncing on Kevin Wimmer in the end zone. Shortly afterwards, Winona added a TD but missed the conversion attempt.

Moorhead retaliated with a 53 yard pass play from Kevin Wimmer to Don Pate, who, with his 12 point evening, won the conference scoring championship for the second straight year with 36 points. Wimmer ran for the 2 points to tie the score after 3 periods.

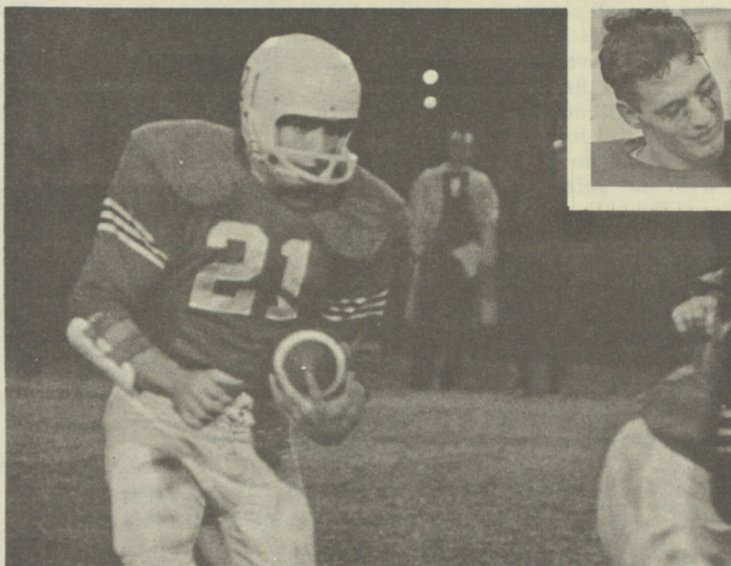

The fourth quarter found Winona scoring after a MSC fumble on a 15 yard run by Doug Konop, and a pass play made it 16-8, Winona.

Wimmer passed to Pate again for 50 yards and another Dragon score, but the conversion failed and the scoreboard read 16-14 Winona.

Gambling and fumbling cost the Dragons 13 fore points in their futile attempts to pull it out, giving Winona a decisive edge not indicative of the score.

With Valley City tomorrow night and Concordia a week from Saturday, the Dragons feel they could still wind up with a 6-3 record.

Statistics: MSC Winona
 first downs 10 11
 passing yardage 185 95
 rushing yardage 160 295
 total yardage 345 390

Dragon halfback Don Pate gets good blocking and is headed for another touchdown as he wins the conference scoring title for the second straight year with 36 points in league competition.

Don Pate repeats title wins scoring crown

by Larry Larson

Dragon halfback Don Pate, a junior from Bloomington, Indiana, scored both Moorhead State touchdowns in a 29-14 loss to Winona to repeat as the league's individual scoring champion.

Pate tallied 36 points, including three touchdowns against Michigan Tech and one against Bemidji State College.

The 170-pound scatback overtook Mike Goeden of Bemidji, junior halfback from Duluth Morgan Park, who closed with 32 tallies. St. Cloud State's Jerry Weber, junior quarterback from Minneapolis, finished third in the loop scoring race with 30 points.

Pate's 36 points represents the identical total with which he won the title a year ago.

Two other Dragon performers in Richard Schubbe and Lorny Johnson also tallied in loop play. Schubbe scored two touchdowns against loop opponent Michigan Tech to rank 14th with 12 points.

The other crimson and white footballer to be listed in the race was junior tackle Lorney Johnson. The 235-pounder kicked five extra points and a field goal to notch eight points.

Valley City's Vikings next gridiron foe

by Larry Larson

Moorhead State College football grididders will be awaiting the final home starting gun of the season tomorrow night, when hosting the Vikings of Valley City in a 7:30 p.m. contest at Nemzek Field.

Six seniors will play their last home game for the crimson-and-white-clad Dragons. They are: co-captain Roger Gunnufson, Lowell Kutches, Bill Ovsak, Eugene Jacobson, Don Tirk and John Hiner.

Head Coach Dick Koppenhaver's Vikings have fair speed in the backfield and also employ a stout defensive line. Koppenhaver greeted 22 monogram winners this year and hopes to improve on the 66-0 smashing the Dragons handed the Valley City crew last season.

Meanwhile, the Dragons will be looking for their first victory since the homecoming clash last October 13th, when Coach Dwaine Hoberg's club belted the Michigan Tech Huskie's 34-18.

The locals have a current 4-3 mark, winning from two non-conference foes in North Dakota State and Yankton College, and then beating Bemidji and Michigan Tech in loop tests. They finished the NSCC standings with a 2-3 record.

Dragon sophomore quarterback Kevin Wimmer was the big offensive gun in last week's heartbreaking loss to the champion of the Northern States Conference, the Winona State College Warriors. The 170-pounder from Litchfield threw for both touchdowns on passes of 50 and 53 yards, hitting halfback Don Pate.

A victory tomorrow night for the homestanding Moorhead State club would assure them of equalizing last year's total win mark of five victories. With the Concordia College game left to be played next Saturday at Cobberland, the local aggregation could finish the current grid campaign with a respectable 6-3 record.

Dragon Along

Larry Larson

Coach Moon Molinari's Winona State Warriors won both the offensive and defensive honors in the league by outscoring their league opposition 90-20. They surrendered two touchdowns for the first time in league play last Saturday before topping Moorhead 29-14.

Marshall Shoquist, a junior halfback from Minneapolis, will definitely miss tomorrow night's home finale against Valley City. Marsh suffered fractured ribs in last week's loop battle against Winona State College.

Kevin Wimmer got his first big chance last Saturday against Winona and proved worthy at the signal calling spot as he threw two touchdown passes to halfback Don Pate. Wimmer is but a sophomore and hails from Litchfield.

Kevin was a proud individual last weekend as his wife Darlene gave birth to a 6 pound baby boy. The infant was born on Friday night when Kevin was staying with the team at the Maryland Hotel in Minneapolis when Todd Michael arrived at 8:18 p.m.

St. John's University of Collegeville, Minnesota has an 8-0 record to date. The Johnnies are the winningest team in the nation and hope to receive a bowl bid.

The MSC High Baby Dragons under the head mentorship of Ken Bladow won the Little Valley Conference football championship title. Steve Poitras, ace halfback finished in a tie with Roland Michaelson of Lake Park for the individual scoring title with 93 points.

Jerry Lindell, a 1962 graduate of Moorhead State College, piloted his Clinton High School grididders to a championship title in the Pheasant Conference.

Hockey Coach Neal Johnson asks all those interested in playing the ice sport this winter to attend a meeting next Tuesday at 4 p.m. in Room 111, Nemzek Fieldhouse.

You Pick 'em

October 27 Winner: (Morris Marsten-Moorhead)

A most popular man with a friendly smile dropped his football predictions into last week's You Pick'em prediction box. The Moorhead State College custodian not only picked four out of five picks correctly but he guessed right on three final scores. Congrats, Morrie, on a job well done.
